TALKED TEMPERANCE

Doctor Stewart Was at the
First M. E. Church.

DISCUSSED THE HARRIS BILL
And Told the Large Audience How the Cause is Being Pushed in Columbus—An Address From Col. H. R. Hill—It Was an Anti-Saloon Meeting.

There was a splendid audience present at the First M. E. church last night, despite the drizzle, to take part in the temperance program. Rev. J. C. Taggart presided. After appropriate song service by the choir, Dr. John Lloyd Lee led in an eloquent prayer for God's blessing upon temperance and upon the Haskell bill, pleading that God may influence the legislators at Columbus to do their full duty in the direction of right against wrong—of sobriety and good citizenship against drunkenness and lawlessness.

Song service followed the prayer, and then the chairman made a few brief and telling remarks, showing the purpose of the meeting and what it had been called for, finishing his remarks by introducing Presiding Elder Stewart, who was in attendance upon the late convention at Columbus, called to urge the merits of the Haskell bill upon our legislators and lawmakers.

Reverend Stewart claimed his right as a man, asserting that every true minister of the Gospel should be in politics up to the arm pits; not the politics of party, but the politics of morals—in every political movement representing right and truth, moral interests and religion. He asserted that the great mass of electors of the state of Ohio, embracing Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Populists, favor greater restrictions being placed upon the liquor traffic, the horrible, horned monster of the century, and that adherence to party lines had, in the past, done much to hinder the advance of the temperance cause. "We must make this grand movement omni-partisan, omni-denominational, omni-sectarian. The temperance workers have been divided into three classes, at times working one against the other, while the liquor men have been a unit in concentrating every effort to the support of their damnable traffic. One class of temperance workers believe that the liquor cause can be legislated out of existence by taxing it to death, and this class are honest in their belief; but the idea is fallacious, as shown by the action of the liquor advocates at Columbus. They want the Harris bill killed, and not a single one of them object to the raising of the tax to $500. I verily believe that the liquor dealers aim to cultivate the idea of high taxation, in order to attract the anti-saloon workers from the vital point, in this battle of right against wrong.

"What about revenue to the national and state government? It has been demonstrated, by facts and figures, that for every dollar of revenue received by the government from the sale of intoxicants, it has cost the government $20. Is this good house-keeping?" "Bishop Watterson, that grand man of the Roman Catholic church, estimates that the liquor cause has cost the state of Ohio fifty-two millions of dollars in the past 10 years, while the commonwealth has derived but two million five hundred thousand dollars in revenue. Shame on such legislation. Take your own city of East Liverpool, with its forty hell holes. Average the sales of each saloon at $10 per day; multiply this by 352 days in the year; then multiply by 40, the number of your saloons, and you have an idea of the enormity of the crime of dram drinking and drunkard making, the evil which wrecks and curses homes and lives. Look at your billiard halls, card rooms and houses of prostitution, fed and nurtured almost exclusively by the liquor curse, and you may have a faint idea of the enormity of the outrage perpetrated upon our citizens by this hydra-headed demon of rum.

"What is the aim of the dram seller? Money, money, money. He is in the business for this alone, and for it will sacrifice self-respect, manhood, the good opinion of his one-time friends and neighbors and lose his own soul. Is it not awful?" "By God's help we will wipe out the grog shops of Ohio. The grog keeper says that the anti-saloon movement is all froth and foam, and that when this is blown away there will be mighty little good water left in the glass. Thank God, I believe the movement has come to stay. Roman Catholics and Protestants have united against the common foe, and every priest and preacher in the land has the right to hurl his thunderbolts, in the name of God, against the monster. Yes, praise God, the movement has come to stay, clean cut and crystallized. At that glorious convention at Columbus there were four Catholic bishops upon the platform and twenty priests, the kingly Bishop Watterson, a noble man, working at his own expense and contributing money to the treasury. There also was Bishop Cleary, from beyond the Mississippi, and the bishops from Cleveland and from Cincinnati, with lawyers and laymen backing them up. On that common platform of good against evil were seen mighty men, strong men, men of brain and power, judges, congressmen, legislators, all in deadly earnest against the evil which is dragging our nation down to ruin.

"Judge West, of Bellefontaine, aged and weak physically, but keen-witted and brainy, described the power of the curse in his native place, until a mayor was selected who faced the devil of rum in his subterranean retreats, and when the police failed him, this heroic mayor did yeoman service personally, backed by good citizens. Until the right triumphed and Bellefontaine was redeemed, and in the past seven years has increased about 100 per cent in population, while building and loan associations have sprung into existence and men are erecting homes upon every side; and these men, redeemed and made honest citizens, are paying accounts hoary with age and outlawed—debts contracted in consequence of the infamous liquor traffic. Men, if I was engaged in the grocery or dry goods business, I would do my best to wipe out the saloon and obtain the money—giving value received—that the saloonists are robbing the people of."

"In Columbus we received fair treatment from the daily papers and from the legislators, as well as the committee in charge of our special case. I believe that the Harris bill will come to the front and I sincerely hope that it may pass.

"We now have the sinews of war in the shape of money. For a time Treasurer Bayne was fearful along this line; but one morning he opened a letter and found therein a check for $1,000, the sender writing: 'When you need funds, draw on me, for this is God's fight.' My friends, you will have the opportunity of voting with your party, and still vote against the saloon. Thank God for this.

"Gallant General Steadman listened to the firing at Chicamauga, from an almost isolated position. At last he could bear it no longer, and said: 'Orders or no orders, I can't stand this any longer. I'm going after that firing.' And he did. Reaching the battlefield at a critical time, when the fight was at red heat, he addressed one of the commanding officers with: 'I've just arrived. My men are fresh; where shall we go in.' And quick came the response: 'In God's name go in anywhere—there's good fighting all around here.' And go in he did, and his command did glorious work for the country. Don't hesitate friends, in this terrific battle of right against wrong; there's good fighting on every hand. In God's name go in and do your duty.

"I am the proud father of a little boy, four years of age. He's a smart boy; he takes after his mother in this particular. He came running to his mother and said to her: 'Mamma, we're going to have twin chickens.' Asked the meaning of his remark, he shouted: 'Yes, we will have twin chickens, for there's two hens settin' on one egg.' My friends, we are going to get one great big hen, with wide spreading wings, and hatch out temperance people, as we are tired of the plan of permitting the saloonists to do all the hatching."

Reverend Stewart was the recipient of hearty applause at the close of his remarks. Reverend Taggart then read a memorial, addressed to our representatives at Columbus, urging them to take favorable action on the Harris bill, and a rising vote was called for, every one voting in favor—not one against. Colonel H. R. Hill was then called to the platform, amid hearty applause, and said:

"I believe in absolute, complete prohibition of the rum traffic. I am in favor of any movement which will restrict or better control it; but the effective feature must be absolute prohibition. On this subject, I am more accustomed to addressing 12 men, and not such an audience as is now before me. The young man—the minor—is prohibited from drinking, and a penalty faces the saloon-keeper who dares to sell intoxicants to him. He is carefully protected by home influence until after he is 20 years of age; but when he reaches 21, the saloonist has free and full right to ruin him. Our laws are good, as far as they go, on this question; but the great trouble is that they don't go far enough. Next on the statutes is the law in reference

Miss Gertie Bostock Almost Lost Her Watch.

A HIGHWAYMAN ON AVONDALE
He Followed the Young Woman Early in
the Evening and Then Saw Her Later in
the Night—Grabbed Her Watch But Failed to Get the Prize.

Miss Gertie Bostock, daughter of James Bostock, a dishmaker at the china works, came near losing her watch last night.

She resides on the hill above Avondale street, and in company with several friends went to a house near the china works. On her way to the place she met a man on Avondale street who eyed her closely as she passed, and looked at her so intently that she was frightened. After leaving the house the girls started for home, and again met the man near the pottery. Again he was insulting in his scrutiny and Miss Bostock, to escape him, walked with her friends to Calcutta road. Near there she left them, and crossed by Bank street to Avondale in the hope of avoiding the man, but he had divined her purpose, and was at the corner when she arrived. The man stood in front of her, completely blocking the way, and asked what time it was. Very much frightened Miss Bostock drew out her watch and gave the desired answer, but that was not what the fellow wanted. He grabbed the watch, and pulled hard; but it was fastened by a stout ribbon, and Miss Bostock, having faith in her power, quickly jerked from his hold, and ran home. There is no clue to the man's identity, but he is described as a rough looking individual.

TWO DIVORCES ASKED.

Hanover and Lisbon are Getting Very Giddy.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Minnie Travis, a colored woman of this place, today brought suit against her husband asking a divorce. They were married four years ago, and she alleges cruelty.

William Wernett, of Hanover, wants a divorce from his wife, Mary Ann. He charges that she has neglected her duty to him, and has been unduly intimate with men on several occasions. The pair were married 16 years ago, and are well up in years.

To offset these evidences of matrimonial infidelity there were but two marriage licenses issued today. During the entire month there were only 41, a great decrease over the record for December.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

The Odd Fellows Ate, Danced and Were Merry.

The Odd Fellows ate, danced and were merry in their lodge rooms last night, and the evening was spent in enjoying themselves. Solicitor Clark made the address of the evening, and there were several recitations. David Jessop sang in a manner described by his friends as beautiful and Mrs. Chisholm presided at the piano. Covers were laid for 125 at the banquet, and there were no vacant seats. Dancing was then commenced, and continued until a late hour.

TWO DAUGHTERS ILL.

They Live Far Apart But are Near to Death.

Mrs. Frank Knowles, who resides not a great distance from the city, is very ill with typhoid fever, and it is feared she cannot recover. Mrs. W. E. Hutcherson, of Pittsburg, has the spinal meningitis, and is very near to death. The ladies are sisters, and daughters of T. M. Bennett, of this city. They are well known here, and their friends will be pained to hear of their unfortunate condition.

REVERSED THE RULING.

Squire Manley Set Aside the Verdict of a Jury.

Squire Manley heard the arguments yesterday afternoon for a new trial in the case of the River Mills company against O. E. Aber, of Industry. He withheld his decision until this morning, and then told the attorneys that the verdict had been set aside and there would be a new trial. He did not believe the verdict was in accordance with the evidence.

A BIG PLANT.

The Park Company Will Improve Kenilworth.

There is a story afloat in the valley that the Park company, purchasers of the Porter plant at Kenilworth a few months ago, will make extensive improvements. They will begin immediately, and will have a large force at work very soon, enlarging the works. There are four kilns there at present, but 10 will be added right away. Houses will be built for the employees, and when completed it will be the largest brick plant in the valley. It is proposed to put in a switch from the works to the river.

A LAUGH ON HUTCHESON.

A Joke at His Expense in the House of Representatives.

Representative Hutcheson made a speech in the house of representatives at Columbus last week. It was his best effort, and he talked as though he had spent hours in its preparation. When he was done talking another representative arose and stated that he wanted to call the attention of the house to the fact that he had almost every word of that speech in a book at home. Mr. Hutcheson was indignant and said so, but the other member only smiled, and said he had the book there. The Columbian county man dared him to produce, and a roar of laughter went up from the house as he was handed a dictionary.

SEEN IN A FILTER.

All Sorts of Funny Things in the Water.

A prominent resident who owns a filter had occasion to clean it out the other day, and he was telling some friends about it this afternoon.

"You should see that thing," he said, "and you would never again drink raw water from the river. There were all kinds of filth in the filter, and the whole made up a mess that would almost turn your stomach. I never imagined the water was so impure until then, and I don't believe I would have believed it unless I had seen it. It is no wonder the people have typhoid fever."

OUR REPRESENTATION.

Who Will be in the National Convention.

The Alliance Review asks who will represent this congressional district in the St. Louis convention, and then points out that Judge Smith, of Wells-ville, is a candidate. There seems to be nothing in it but the Review means W. L. Smith, of this city. Mr. Smith's friends here are determined to seat him in the convention, and are already talking about it. He has always been active in politics, but never asked an office, and they want to give him the honor. The delegates will be chosen at the congressional convention.

BUILDING A WALK.

Avondale People are Weary of Walking
in Mud.

People of Avondale street have at last grown weary of walking through the mud, and workmen today began laying a walk from Minerva to Ravine street. It is not much more than a square, but it covers up a vast deal of mud, and when completed the walk will be greatly appreciated. Other residents of the street hope that the people in that part of the city can come together, and decide upon a plan that will result in the laying of a walk to Bank street. The mud is very deep.

A GOOD MEETING.

Many Delegates at the State Board of Health.

Doctor Ogden and daughter are home from Columbus where the doctor attended the meeting of the state board of health. It was the best meeting the organization ever held, and the attendance was much larger than usual. Among the principal features was a paper by Mrs. Thomas L. Johnson, of Cleveland. The doctor was greatly pleased with the meeting where he heard many excellent ideas advanced and discussed.

A Drive in the Mud.

E. S. Davis a traveling salesman of Akron, drove to this city this afternoon from Lisbon, and when he reached here he was covered with mud as with a mantle. He said the roads were in awful condition and it was the hardest drive he ever had, though he has been over some rough roads. In places the wheels sank to the hubs, and the horses could not be forced into much more than a slow trot. Mr. Davis said the pottery at Akron was running with a full force.

Free Silver Amendment.

DIED IN AN OIL TANK

Two Men Overcome By Gas
Near Hollow Rock.

HUNDREDS VISIT THE SCENE

Edmonston Went Into the Tank and Dropped—His Father Followed. But Was Saved By James Mackall, Who Fell
Back and Died Very Soon.

The most tragic happening in the history of the oil field below Wells-ville occurred yesterday afternoon, and as a consequence two men are dead.

A big tank had been built near the Edmonston well, not far from Hollow Rock, and the oil was just being turned into it. Desirous of obtaining a sample of the fluid, Charles Edmonston went down through the manhole in the roof and was obtaining the amount wanted when he was overcome by gas. His long absence caused alarm among the people who were waiting for his return, and the father, Joseph Edmonston, went after him. He, too, was overcome, and was almost in a dying condition when James Mackall, of Wells-ville, rescued him. He succeeded in getting the old man out in safety, but fell back into the tank and soon expired. The bodies were recovered and taken home, and great crowds of people thronged to the scene of the accident. Mackall had a wife and child in Wells-ville, and was very well known among the oil men of this vicinity. He had a large circle of friends in this city. He was a brave man and those who know him best can well understand the motive which prompted him to rescue his employer.

ABANDONED THE PLAN.

Trades Council Might Have Had a Library.

A member of Trades council had in his breast for some time a plan to form a library and reading room for the members of the council and working men in general. He wanted to rent a few rooms in the business part of town, furnish them as well as the council could afford, secure donations of books and papers from any place where they could be obtained, and conduct the place so that it would be an advantage to all concerned. It is understood that the plan was voted down at the last meeting of the council, but it will be taken up again.

MRS. LYONS WON.

She Got a Judgment for Keeping Mrs.
Latham.

In the court of Squire Rose this morning Mrs. Belle Lyons got judgment against Miss Amanda McLaughlin for $300, the amount for which she sued. Mrs. Lyons agreed with the defendant to keep Mrs. Latham, an aged woman who died in Calcutta recently, for $3 a week, and $400 at her death. The amount was not paid when Mrs. Lyons presented her bill and she brought suit. The other case, which has the same principals, was postponed until more evidence can be secured.

A True Philanthropist.

Some philanthropist has laid a few boards along Calcutta road from a point near Wall to the Grant street school. It was one of the muddiest parts of that muddy thoroughfare, and this improvement makes pedestrians happy.

The Farmer Talked.

After leaving the house the girls started for home, and again met the man near the pottery. Again he was insulting in his scrutiny, and Miss Bostock, to escape him, walked with her friends to Calcutta road. Near there she left them, and crossed by Bank street to Avondale in the hope of avoiding the man, but he had divined her purpose, and was at the corner when she arrived. The man stood in front of her, completely blocking the way, and asked what time it was. Very much frightened Miss Bostock drew out her watch and gave the desired answer, but that was not what the fellow wanted. He grabbed the watch, and pulled hard; but it was fastened by a stout ribbon, and Miss Bostock, having faith in her power, quickly jerked from his hold, and ran home. There is no clue to the man's identity, but he is described as a rough looking individual.

TWO DIVORCES ASKED.

Hanover and Lisbon are Getting Very Giddy.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Minnie Travis, a colored woman of this place, today brought suit against her husband asking a divorce. They were married four years ago, and she alleges cruelty.

William Wernett, of Hanover, wants a divorce from his wife, Mary Ann. He charges that she has neglected her duty to him, and has been unduly intimate with men on several occasions. The pair were married 16 years ago, and are well up in years.

To offset these evidences of matrimonial infidelity there were but two marriage licenses issued today. During the entire month there were only 41, a great decrease over the record for December.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

The Odd Fellows Ate, Danced and Were Merry.

The Odd Fellows ate, danced and were merry in their lodge rooms last night, and the evening was spent in enjoying themselves. Solicitor Clark made the address of the evening, and there were several recitations. David Jessop sang in a manner described by his friends as beautiful and Mrs. Chisholm presided at the piano. Covers were laid for 125 at the banquet, and there were no vacant seats. Dancing was then commenced, and continued until a late hour.

TWO DAUGHTERS ILL.

They Live Far Apart But are Near to Death.

Mrs. Frank Knowles, who resides not a great distance from the city, is very ill with typhoid fever, and it is feared she cannot recover. Mrs. W. E. Hutchenson, of Pittsburgh, has the spinal meningitis, and is very near to death. The ladies are sisters, and daughters of T. M. Bennett, of this city. They are well known here, and their friends will be pained to hear of their unfortunate condition.

REVERSED THE RULING.

Squire Manley Set Aside the Verdict of a Jury.

Squire Manley heard the arguments yesterday afternoon for a new trial in the case of the River Mills company against O. E. Aber, of Industry. He withheld his decision until this morning, and then told the attorneys that the verdict had been set aside and there would be a new trial. He did not believe the verdict was in accordance with the evidence.

A BIG PLANT.

The Park Company Will Improve Kenilworth.

There is a stirr astir in the valley that the Park company, purchasers of the Porter plant at Kenilworth a few months ago, will make extensive improvements. They will begin immediately, and will have a large force at work very soon, enlarging the works. There are four kilns there at present, but 10 will be added right away. Houses will be built for the employees, and when completed it will be the largest brick plant in the valley. It is proposed to put in a switch from the works to the river.

A LAUGH ON HUTCHESON.

A Joke at His Expense in the House of Representatives.

Representative Hutcheson made a speech in the house of representatives at Columbus last week. It was his best effort, and he talked as though he had spent hours in its preparation. When he was done talking another representative arose and stated that he wanted to call the attention of the house to the fact that he had almost every word of that speech in a book at home. Mr. Hutcheson was indignant and said so, but the other member only smiled, and said he had the book there. The Columbian county man dared him to produce it, and a roar of laughter went up from the house as he was handed a dictionary.

SEEN IN A FILTER.

All Sorts of Funny Things in the Water.

A prominent resident who owns a filter had occasion to clean it out the other day, and he was telling some friends about it this afternoon.

"You should see that thing," he said, "and you would never again drink raw water from the river. There were all kinds of filth in the filter, and the whole made up a mess that would almost turn your stomach. I never imagined the water was so impure until then, and I don't believe I would have believed it unless I had seen it. It is no wonder the people have typhoid fever."

OUR REPRESENTATION.

Who Will be in the National Convention.

The Alliance Review asks who will represent this congressional district in the St. Louis convention, and then points out that Judge Smith, of Wells-ville, is a candidate. There seems to be nothing in it but the Review means W. L. Smith, of this city. Mr. Smith's friends here are determined to seat him in the convention, and are already talking about it. He has always been active in politics, but never asked an office, and they want to give him the honor. The delegates will be chosen at the congressional convention.

BUILDING A WALK.

Avondale People are Weary of Walking in Mud.

People of Avondale street have at last grown weary of walking through the mud, and workmen today began laying a walk from Minerva to Ravine street. It is not much more than a square, but it covers up a vast deal of mud, and when completed the walk will be greatly appreciated. Other residents of the street hope that the people in that part of the city can come together, and decide upon a plan that will result in the laying of a walk to Bank street. The mud is very deep.

A GOOD MEETING.

Many Delegates at the State Board of Health.

Doctor Ogden and daughter are home from Columbus where the doctor attended the meeting of the state board of health. It was the best meeting the organization ever held, and the attendance was much larger than usual. Among the principal features was a paper by Mrs. Thomas L. Johnson, of Cleveland. The doctor was greatly pleased with the meeting where he heard many excellent ideas advanced and discussed.

A Drive in the Mud.

E. S. Davis a traveling salesman of Akron, drove to this city this afternoon from Lisbon, and when he reached here he was covered with mud as with a mantle. He said the roads were in awful condition and it was the hardest drive he ever had, though he has been over some rough roads. In places the wheels sank to the hubs, and the horses could not be forced into much more than a slow trot. Mr. Davis said the pottery at Akron was running with a full force.

Free Silver Amendment.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate finance committee are victors. The free silver amendment to the house bond bill passed the senate today by a vote of 43 to 34.

Moved to the Country.

Will Smith, who has for some time been a resident of the Calcutta road, moved this week with his family to the country.

DIED IN AN OIL TANK

Two Men Overcome By Gas Near Hollow Rock.

Edmonston Went Into the Tank and Dropped—His Father Followed, But Was Saved By James Mackall, Who Fell Back and Died Very Soon.

The most tragic happening in the history of the oil field below Wells-ville occurred yesterday afternoon, and as a consequence two men are dead.

A big tank had been built near the Edmonston well, not far from Hollow Rock, and the oil was just being turned into it. Desirous of obtaining a sample of the fluid, Charles Edmonston went down through the manhole in the roof and was obtaining the amount wanted when he was overcome by gas. His long absence caused alarm among the people who were waiting for his return, and the father, Joseph Edmonston, went after him. He, too, was overcome, and was almost in a dying condition when James Mackall, of Wells-ville, rescued him. He succeeded in getting the old man out in safety, but fell back into the tank and soon expired. The bodies were recovered and taken home, and great crowds of people thronged to the scene of the accident. Mackall had a wife and child in Wells-ville, and was very well known among the oil men of this vicinity. He had a large circle of friends in this city. He was a brave man and those who know him best can well understand the motive which prompted him to rescue his employer.

ABANDONED THE PLAN.

Trades Council Might Have Had a Library.

A member of Trades council had in his breast for some time a plan to form a library and reading room for the members of the council and working men in general. He wanted to rent a few rooms in the business part of town, furnish them as well as the council could afford, secure donations of books and papers from any place where they could be obtained, and conduct the place so that it would be an advantage to all concerned. It is understood that the plan was voted down at the last meeting of the council, but it will be taken up again.

MRS. LYONS WON.

She Got a Judgment for Keeping Mrs. Latham.

In the court of Squire Rose this morning Mrs. Belle Lyons got judgment against Miss Amanda McLaughlin for $300, the amount for which she sued. Mrs. Lyons agreed with the defendant to keep Mrs. Latham, an aged woman who died in Calcutta recently, for $3 a week, and $400 at her death. The amount was not paid when Mrs. Lyons presented her bill and she brought suit. The other case, which has the same principals, was postponed until more evidence can be secured.

A True Philanthropist.

The Farmer Talked.

A laughable colloquy took place in the Diamond this morning between a long haired individual in a wagon and the fakir who was disposing of cheap jewelry. The exchange of personalities was the source of much amusement for a number of spectators.

No Fakirs in the Diamond.

An old soldier who was selling his wares in the Diamond this morning was compelled to move out because he had no license. Mayor Gilbert let him down easy, and exacted no fine because he is a veteran of the late war.

Not Going to Columbus.

Remus Shenkle will not study in the school of ceramics at the Ohio university at Columbus this term. He will remain in this city, and has not yet decided whether he will take up his studies next year.

Detained in Washington.

J. J. Purinton, who is in Washington looking after the case of Frank Lenz, will not be home until Monday the business having required more time than he anticipated.

Going to Florida.

Edward Morley, son of Superintendent Morley, of the water works, is preparing to go to Florida in search of health.

Save You Money.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and hustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. Rent and a hundred other expenses go on just as before, and as we can't make money anyway, we might as well lose it with a crowd as in solitude. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. For example, if a coat is marked $16 take it along at $12; or if marked at $8 take it along at $6. In our suit and pants department we will make you reductions that will open your eyes. Come at once as our stock must be reduced.

A MENACE TO HEALTH

Is What a Resident Calls the Jethro Road.

PEOPLE ARE OPPOSED TO PAVING

They Think It Costs Too Much Money
For the Benefits to Be Derived—Some
Are in Line and Want It Done as a Sanitary Measure—Deep Mud.

An effort is being made to induce the people residing on Franklin street and Jethro road to have the way paved, but promoters of the scheme are meeting with opposition.

A petition is being circulated, and a number of property owners have put down their names, but like all things, there are others. The others in this case do not want the paving done, being content to abide with the mud, and that is where they differ from the land owners who are talking themselves hoarse in the endeavor to convince their neighbors that paving is the right thing. This is how one of the progressive ones put it to a reporter today:

"If these people refuse to enter this agreement council should order the road paved without regard to them. It is a menace to the public health. Jethro road is a disgrace to a civilized community. When the mud gets deep out there, and it will soon be at its worst, you can sink into it for a foot. The stench arising from it at such times makes a demand for clothespins, and even then it is hardly endurable. Franklin street is not much better, although the mud never gets so deep there because it is a hill. Why if that road was paved it would make one of the finest in the city."

Complexion Hints.

Avoid cosmetics.
Deal gingerly with lotions.
Steam the face once a fortnight.
Avoid pastry, sweets and greasy foods.

Massage the skin for five or ten minutes every evening.

Never go out immediately after washing the face with warm water.

Use a few drops of benzoin in the water in which the face is washed to tighten and whiten the skin.

Avoid alcoholic stimulants if you wish to avoid becoming "beefy" in line, and avoid tea and coffee if you would escape wrinkles.

Use cold cream to remove dust and grime, rubbing it into the face and removing it with a soft cloth. Then wash the grease off in warm water.

Get on the Groundhog.

There are some sports in town who would wager a small amount on anything. This morning a few of these congenial spirits were gathered together when one offered to lay a dollar with each of the party that he could tell whether the groundhog would see his shadow next Sunday. He was immediately taken up by several of his friends, and he bet the groundhog would see enough of his reflection on the ground to make him hunt his hole for a few weeks.

Preparing to Raise Funds.

The Junior Mechanics and the Daughters of America have a meeting tomorrow night when they will decide upon some means of raising money for the home established by the order at Tiffin. The councils have a large membership in this city, and it is their purpose to raise an amount that will reflect credit upon them.

More Cards.

Many cards were added to the vast number floating around the city today. They say that the men whose names are on the face of them want the support of the people because they are on the Independent Labor ticket. Notwithstanding the ticket is still incomplete the candidates are hustling for what votes they can pick up.

Ready for the Show.

The various committees and officials of the Kennel club having in charge the bench show have well nigh completed their labors, all the preparations having been made. The catalogue, a handsome book, is being printed in the job department of the NEWS REVIEW, and will be issued the first of next week.

Started a Dancing School.

George Evans, the New Brighton dancing master who made many friends here last year, gave a dance in Bradshaw hall last night and it was well attended. He was accompanied by G. Wallover as pianist. Mr. Evans expects to teach some of the latest dances.

Enjoying Life in Germany.

A letter has been received here from William Erlanger who is now in Germany. He was in Berlin for several weeks enjoying that beautiful city, but a few days ago he went to Fuerth, his native town, where he is now visiting with relatives.

Bicycle versus skates, at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Hale against Delaney. Lots of excitement.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Mr. Webber, of Irondale, was in the city today.

—George Buxton, Sr., is in Pittsburg today on business.

—Charles Surls and W. L. Smith went east today on business.

—Mr. Dennison, of Youngstown, was here this afternoon on business.

—Thomas Foster returned from Florida yesterday and is a Pittsburg visitor today.

—R. P. Smith, of Johnstown, was the guest of W. E. Cooper, of Fourth street, yesterday.

—W. O. Hamilton is expected home from New York tonight where he has been attending the bicycle show.

—Mrs. Wood and Miss Pringle, of Morrisville, O., are guests at the residence of Doctor Clark on Sixth street.

—Doctor Jean Sloan is slowly recovering from her long illness, and has reached that point where she is able to sit up.

Bargains. Bargains.

Quay & Co. have a few great bargains left for your inspection at private sale. A fine parlor suite at the most favorable figures; almost your own price. Also great bargains in chairs and stands. Come and see them and you will buy them. Goods are on display in the show windows, Fifth street.

Strong Leaders.

A gentleman whose business takes him all over the county, was yesterday discussing politics with a party of friends in this city, and remarked that he believed he could pick the winners at the primaries, because there was a strong leader for every office, and the others were in the distance.

The Muddy Streets.

People living in those parts of the city not provided with pavements or board walks are complaining bitterly of the mud. In West End they also have a grievance against the light company, for when a light is out for a few minutes the unfortunate pedestrian always gets into the mud.

Reckless.

A reckless cut in prices makes Frank Shumaker & Co.'s clearance sale a success. Ladies' $2 shoes for 69 cents; misses' rubber boots, $1.15; men's extra high $4 boots for $2.50; boys' heavy rubber boots, $1.25. Call and see the bargains.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smily-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

Population Increased by One.

Gus Rosenthal, an inmate at the Fairmount children's home, was taken to East Liverpool this afternoon by August Martin. Gus is about 13 years of age and will live with Mr. Martin for some time.—Alliance Review.

Go to the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. See the hot race between Hale, the famous bicycle rider, and Delaney, the champion skater.

Presented With a Horse.

Will Nagle, a well known youth of West Market street, has been presented with a white horse. It is a pacer with many good and prominent points, and is expected to have a record this season.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smily-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

Recovering From Rheumatism.

Miss Clara, the daughter of John Mumford, is recovering after an unusually severe attack of rheumatism. The young woman was close to death at one time and has been ill for two months.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smily-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

The Odd Fellows' Banquet.

The Odd Fellows will banquet in their hall on Fifth street this evening. Leading members of the order will make addresses, and there will be dancing.

See the great deciding race at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Each has won a race. The winner takes the prize. Bicycle against skates.

Home to Stay.

John Clark, who has been in Wheeling for six months, has returned to this city, and will remain here permanently.

Hale against Delaney at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Three mile contest. Bicycle versus skater.

Don't miss our Saturday clearance sale.
FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO.

WOMAN AT THE WHEEL

Mrs. Mary Green Has Become
a River Pilot.

THE FIRST IN THIS SECTION

There Are a Few on the Lower Mississippi, but None on the Ohio—Mrs. Green Is the Wife of Captain Green, of the Well Known Bedford.

The Bedford, one of the boats best known on this end of the river and often seen at the local wharf, is to have a woman pilot.

The commander of the Bedford is Capt. Gordon Green and his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Green, is the lucky possessor of the license. She appeared before the local inspectors at Pittsburg yesterday, and was granted the coveted bit of paper which allows her to handle the wheel between that city and Wheeling or Sistersville. It is the first license ever granted a woman for this end of the river.

Mrs. Green passed with a good grade, and when a few pilots heard of her success, one proposed three cheers and they were given with a will. There are several woman pilots in the south, but Mrs. Green is the first for this section. She is described as a pleasant woman of medium height and rather stout. She has been on the boat with her husband for years, and has many times stood her watch at the wheel. She knows the river between the points named in her license as well as any man, and stood high in her examination. In the near future Mrs. Green will take a regular watch on the Bedford, and will become one of its pilots. All the rivermen are hoping she will be very much of a success.

AN EXPLANATION.

Something About the Opera House Music.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In reply to an article which appeared in the NEWS REVIEW night before last, and also in the Crisis last night, and in justice to all parties concerned, I make this statement to the public:

The party who signs himself "Citizen" asks why my former drummer was displaced, etc.

In the first place he was not displaced. He gave up his position here, and joined a minstrel company. Of course I engaged another man, but the former drummer with the company got stranded and returned home. Then himself and other parties came to me to get me to throw the new man over, which I promptly refused to do. In justice to my new man, I must say he is the best drummer I ever had, and a union man in good standing. The management of the opera house is fully aware of these facts, and there is no trouble whatever. If Mr. Citizen wishes any further information he can obtain the same from the secretary of local union No. 77, Musicians Mutual Protective union.

H. F. SCHENKEL.

The Daughter.

The superior wisdom of the feminine mind is shown in the fact that the mother never rebels against her daughter's guidance. She is the first to discover the young woman's wisdom and she enjoys the security and sense of rest which come from feeling that she has some one to depend upon, some one to think and plan for her. She regards it as providential that as the husband of her youth grows careless, as his judgment becomes untrustworthy as to details, as he grows inclined to shirk the little questions which arise in the conduct of the household, the daughter quite naturally takes up the neglected duties and assumes the management of the affairs. Of course it is often difficult for the mother to live up to the course the daughter marks out. She sometimes finds herself deficient in the strength or wisdom the daughter expects from her. But this is not real trouble, for under it all is the comforting sense of being guided by a strong will, the sense of being free from responsibility for the social and domestic welfare of the family is filling the young woman's soul with satisfaction, flattering her with the consciousness of her great usefulness, making her realize her importance in the world.—Kansas City Star.

Another Case of Fever.

Another case of typhoid fever was reported to the authorities today. The victim is eight-year-old William Arbuthnot, of Monroe street. There have been no cases of contagious disease reported for several days.

Gave a Leap Year Party.

Miss Annie Winters entertained a number of his friends at her home on Seventh street last evening by a leap year party. Dancing was the amusement, and the customs of the leap year were rigidly observed.

A Daughter.

Born to Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert Finley, a daughter.

Cleveland Dines the Supreme Court. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The annual dinner given by the president and Mrs. Cleveland to the supreme court took place at the white house last night.

The Weather.

A MENACE TO HEALTH

Is What a Resident Calls the Jethro Road.

PEOPLE ARE OPPOSED TO PAYING

They Think It Costs Too Much Money
For the Benefits to Be Derived—Some
Are In Line and Want It Done as a
Sanitary Measure—Deep Mud.

An effort is being made to induce the people residing on Franklin street and Jethro road to have the way paved, but promoters of the scheme are meeting with opposition.

A petition is being circulated, and a number of property owners have put down their names, but like all things, there are others. The others in this case do not want the paving done, being content to abide with the mud, and that is where they differ from the land owners who are talking themselves hoarse in the endeavor to convince their neighbors that paving is the right thing. This is how one of the progressive ones put it to a reporter today:

"If these people refuse to enter this agreement council should order the road paved without regard to them. It is a menace to the public health. Jethro road is a disgrace to a civilized community. When the mud gets deep out there, and it will soon be at its worst, you can sink into it for a foot. The stretch arising from it at such times makes a demand for clothespins, and even then it is hardly endurable. Franklin street is not much better, although the mud never gets so deep there because it is a hill. Why if that road was paved it would make one of the finest in the city."

Complexion Hints.

Avoid cosmetics.
Deal gingerly with lotions.
Steam the face once a fortnight.
Avoid pastry, sweets and greasy foods.

Massage the skin for five or ten minutes every evening.

Never go out immediately after washing the face with warm water.

Use a few drops of benzoin in the water in which the face is washed to tighten and whiten the skin.

Avoid alcoholic stimulants if you wish to avoid becoming "beefy" in line, and avoid tea and coffee if you would escape wrinkles.

Use cold cream to remove dust and grime, rubbing it into the face and removing it with a soft cloth. Then wash the grease off in warm water.

Get on the Groundhog.

There are some sports in town who would wager a small amount on anything. This morning a few of these congenial spirits were gathered together when one offered to lay a dollar with each of the party that he could tell whether the groundhog would see his shadow next Sunday. He was immediately taken up by several of his friends, and he bet the groundhog would see enough of his reflection on the ground to make him hunt his hole for a few weeks.

Preparing to Raise Funds.

The Junior Mechanics and the Daughters of America have a meeting tomorrow night when they will decide upon some means of raising money for the home established by the order at Tiffin. The councils have a large membership in this city, and it is their purpose to raise an amount that will reflect credit upon them.

More Cards.

Many cards were added to the vast number floating around the city today. They say that the men whose names are on the face of them want the support of the people because they are on the Independent Labor ticket. Notwithstanding the ticket is still incomplete the candidates are hustling for what votes they can pick up.

Ready for the Show.

The various committees and officials of the Kennel club having in charge the bench show have well nigh completed their labors, all the preparations having been made. The catalogue, a handsome book, is being printed in the job department of the News Review, and will be issued the first of next week.

Started a Dancing School.

George Evans, the New Brighton dancing master who made many friends here last year, gave a dance in Bradshaw hall last night and it was well attended. He was accompanied by G. Wallover as pianist. Mr. Evans expects to teach some of the latest dances.

Enjoying Life in Germany.

A letter has been received here from William Erlanger who is now in Germany. He was in Berlin for several weeks enjoying that beautiful city, but a few days ago he went to Fureth, his native town, where he is now visiting with relatives.

Bicycle versus skates, at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Hale against Delaney. Lots of excitement.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Mr. Webber, of Irondale, was in the city today.

—George Buxton, Sr., is in Pittsburgh today on business.

—Charles Surls and W. L. Smith went east today on business.

—Mr. Dennison, of Youngstown, was here this afternoon on business.

—Thomas Foster returned from Florida yesterday and is a Pittsburgh visitor today.

—R. P. Smith, of Johnstown, was the guest of W. E. Cooper, of Fourth street, yesterday.

—W. O. Hamilton is expected home from New York tonight where he has been attending the bicycle show.

—Mrs. Wood and Miss Pringle, of Morristown, O., are guests at the residence of Doctor Clark on Sixth street.

—Doctor Jean Sloan is slowly recovering from her long illness, and has reached that point where she is able to sit up.

Bargains, Bargains.

Quay & Co. have a few great bargains left for your inspection at private sale. A fine parlor suite at the most favorable figures; almost your own price. Also great bargains in chairs and stands. Come and see them and you will buy them. Goods are on display in the show windows, Fifth street.

Strong Leaders.

A gentleman whose business takes him all over the county, was yesterday discussing politics with a party of friends in this city, and remarked that he believed he could pick the winners at the primaries, because there was a strong leader for every office, and the others were in the distance.

The Muddy Streets.

People living in those parts of the city not provided with pavements or board walks are complaining bitterly of the mud. In West End they also have a grievance against the light company, for when a light is out for a few minutes the unfortunate pedestrian always gets into the mud.

Reckless.

A reckless cut in prices makes Frank, Shumaker & Co.'s clearance sale a success. Ladies' $2 shoes for 69 cents; misses' rubber boots, $1.15; men's extra high $4 boots for $2.50; boys' heavy rubber boots, $1.25. Call and see the bargains.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smiley-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

Population Increased by One.

Gus Rosenthal, an inmate at the Fairmount children's home, was taken to East Liverpool this afternoon by August Martin. Gus is about 13 years of age and will live with Mr. Martin for some time.—Alliance Review.

Go to the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. See the hot race between Hale, the famous bicycle rider, and Delaney, the champion skater.

Presented With a Horse.

Will Nagle, a well known youth of West Market street, has been presented with a white horse. It is a pacer with many good and prominent points, and is expected to have a record this season.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smiley-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

Recovering From Rheumatism.

Miss Clara, the daughter of John Mumford, is recovering after an unusually severe attack of rheumatism. The young woman was close to death at one time and has been ill for two months.

RESERVED SEATS

For the Smiley-Johnson combination on sale at Will Reed's tonight.

The Odd Fellows' Banquet.

The Odd Fellows will banquet in their hall on Fifth street this evening. Leading members of the order will make addresses, and there will be dancing.

See the great deciding race at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Each has won a race. The winner takes the prize. Bicycle against skates.

Home to Stay.

John Clark, who has been in Wheeling for six months, has returned to this city, and will remain here permanently.

Hale against Delaney at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Three mile contest. Bicycle versus skater.

WOMAN AT THE WHEEL

Mrs. Mary Green Has Become
a River Pilot.

THE FIRST IN THIS SECTION

There Are a Few on the Lower Mississippi, but None on the Ohio—Mrs. Green Is the Wife of Captain Green, of the Well Known Bedford.

The Bedford, one of the boats best known on this end of the river and often seen at the local wharf, is to have a woman pilot.

The commander of the Bedford is Capt. Gordon Green and his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Green, is the lucky possessor of the license. She appeared before the local inspectors at Pittsburgh yesterday, and was granted the coveted bit of paper which allows her to handle the wheel between that city and Wheeling or Sistersville. It is the first license ever granted a woman for this end of the river. Mrs. Green passed with a good grade, and when a few pilots heard of her success, one proposed three cheers and they were given with a will. There are several woman pilots in the south, but Mrs. Green is the first for this section. She is described as a pleasant woman of medium height and rather stout. She has been on the boat with her husband for years, and has many times stood her watch at the wheel. She knows the river between the points named in her license as well as any man, and stood high in her examination. In the near future Mrs. Green will take a regular watch on the Bedford, and will become one of its pilots. All the rivermen are hoping she will be very much of a success.

AN EXPLANATION.

Something About the Opera House Music.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—In reply to an article which appeared in the News Review night before last, and also in the Crisis last night, and in justice to all parties concerned, I make this statement to the public: The party who signs himself "Citizen" asks why my former drummer was displaced, etc.

In the first place he was not displaced. He gave up his position here, and joined a minstrel company. Of course I engaged another man, but the former drummer with the company got stranded and returned home. Then himself and other parties came to me to get me to throw the new man over, which I promptly refused to do. In justice to my new man, I must say he is the best drummer I ever had, and a union man in good standing. The management of the opera house is fully aware of these facts, and there is no trouble whatever. If Mr. Citizen wishes any further information he can obtain the same from the secretary of local union No. 77, Musicians Mutual Protective union.

H. F. SCHENKEL.

The Daughter.

The superior wisdom of the feminine mind is shown in the fact that the mother never rebels against her daughter's guidance. She is the first to discover the young woman's wisdom and she enjoys the security and sense of rest which come from feeling that she has some one to depend upon, some one to think and plan for her. She regards it as providential that as the husband of her youth grows careless, as his judgment becomes untrustworthy as to details, as he grows inclined to shirk the little questions which arise in the conduct of the household, the daughter quite naturally takes up the neglected duties and assumes the management of the affairs. Of course it is often difficult for the mother to live up to the course the daughter marks out. She sometimes finds herself deficient in the strength or wisdom the daughter expects from her. But this is not real trouble, for under it all is the comforting sense of being guided by a strong will, the sense of being free from responsibility for the social and domestic welfare of the family is filling the young woman's soul with satisfaction, flattering her with the consciousness of her great usefulness, making her realize her importance in the world.—Kansas City Star.

Another Case of Fever.

Another case of typhoid fever was reported to the authorities today. The victim is eight-year-old William Arbutnot, of Monroe street. There have been no cases of contagious disease reported for several days.

Gave a Leap Year Party.

Miss Annie Winters entertained a number of her friends at her home on Seventh street last evening by a leap year party. Dancing was the amusement, and the customs of the leap year were rigidly observed.

A Daughter.

Born to Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert Finley, a daughter.

Cleveland Dines the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The annual dinner given by the president and Mrs. Cleveland to the supreme court took place at the white house last night.

The Weather.

Cloudy and threatening; possibly followed by fair tonight; easterly winds.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, FEB. 1.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

THE newspapers which seem anxious
to announce at the slightest excuse
that General Gomez is dead must take it all back again. He is much alive
and lively as ever.

PERHAPS some of the disappointed
Democrats of the Eighteenth, who got nothing when the plums were passed around, would consent to be the party's
candidate for president.

AMBASSADOR BAYARD, he who delights in ridiculing Americans for the benefit of the English, appeared at a banquet in London the other day, and
was cheered to the echo. Naturally.

PEOPLE who watched the stirring
times which followed the Homestead
riots and remember the general uneasiness of those stormy days can now
close the book—Dempsey is pardoned.

THERE would be joy in the McKinley quarter if that long headed politician who is known to fame as Matthew Stanley Quay would come riding
into camp and ask to be enrolled under the banner of the great protectionist.

CITIZEN MCKINLEY.

Those Buckeye politicians, Democratic and otherwise, who pretend to believe that William McKinley is not
a great man, should learn wisdom
from these words found in the New York Mail and Express:

"From the point of view of the man
whose god is mammon, Major McKin-ley's career has been an awful failure.
McKinley's heart and hands are too
open, his sense of personal honor too
exalted, his devotion to his friends
too confiding to permit him to enter
upon the second quarter of his married
life with any more of the world's goods
than he had at the start. But the ex-governor has accumulated that which he would not exchange for the wealth of the Indies and the Rand. He
"hath honor, love, obedience, troops
of friends." He has neglected his personal interests, but the interests
of the nation and of the people have been diligently served. He has sacrificed his estate to save the honor
of a friend, and has twice waved aside
a presidential nomination which
might have been his, because he felt
honorable bound to secure the nomination of another. Yet there are possessions more valuable than houses
and money and lands, or than the
highest office in the gift of the people,
unworthily secured, and in these
possessions William McKinley is
wealthier than a score of Brices.
Whatever the future has in store for
him, the past is secure, and in it there
is nothing but should add to the
happiness and peaceful content of the McKinley couple today."

The great majority of men and
women, of even very much more than
ordinary intelligence, pay no attention
whatsoever to the well established
rules governing the preservation of
health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the
stomach or system are treated by them
as trivial happenings, having no weight
or bearing upon their general health.
In this seeming neglect or too much
over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their
lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments grow chronic diseases
spring. To guard fully against such
evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron
and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer,
and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

Go to the rink Saturday night,
Feb. 1. See the hot race between Hale, the famous bicycle rider,
and Delaney, the champion
skater.

EUROPE WON'T MIDDLE

Salisbury Explains the Powers'
Attitude Toward Turkey.

HE ALSO DEFENDS THE SULTAN.

Not to Blame For Massacres and Is Enforcing Reforms—England Has Not
Military Power to Interfere—His Position on the Monroe Doctrine.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The banquet of the Non-Conformist Unionist association at
the Hotel Metropole was the occasion
for an address by the Marquis of Salisbury, prime minister and secretary of state for foreign affairs.

In the course of his remarks he said,
with reference to Venezuela:

"I have been held up as the denouncer
of the Monroe doctrine. As a matter of fact, although the Monroe doctrine is no
part of international law, my dispatch
to Mr. Olney, the secretary of state of the United States, supported it as a rule
of policy in the strongest and most distinct terms.

"But when I stated in that dispatch
and reiterated now, that, as a rule of policy, we are the entire advocate of the Monroe doctrine, we mean the Monroe
doctrine as President Monroe understood it (cheers). In that sense you will not find any more convinced supporters
than we are."

Lord Salisbury then turned abruptly
to the Armenian question, and he re-
proached the religious communities
with laboring under a mistake, when
they supposed that England had bound
herself to succor the Armenians, which
means to go to war with the sultan in order to force him to govern the Armenians
well. The Berlin treaty, Lord Salisbury said, merely bound the signatory
powers that if the sultan promulgated
certain reforms they would watch over
the execution of those reforms. Nothing more. It did not mean to go to war
to force reforms.

"I was concerned in the drafting of
that convention," Lord Salisbury said,
"and nothing would have induced me
to pledge my country to such a desperate undertaking."

The speaker reminded his hearers
that the reforms which the sultan had
recently accepted, although good reforms, could not be expected to produce
good government in two months. Lord Salisbury said he did not believe that the sultan was to blame for the Armenian massacres. It was race faction and creed faction driven to the
highest point in their most corrupt and
most horrible form, which brought upon
the wretched Armenians these terrible
sufferings.

"If you ask why we have not interfered, I can only answer for England
that we could have threatened what I
may call annoyances in the seizing of
customs here and there; but when you
are dealing with the rising of a whole
fanatical population against a population with whom they have been at bitter
enmity for ages and who are situated in
mountains far removed from the sea-
shore, you are deceiving yourselves if
you imagine that England's arm, long
as it is, could have done anything in mitigation. Nothing but military occupation could have done it and England
does not possess the power of military
occupation at that distance.

"Mr. Gladstone wrote a letter that England could cope with five or six Turkeys. That was a most ill-judged and rash assertion. If the sultan would meet
us on the open sea undoubtedly we could
cope with five or six sultans, but it is
not worth arguing the possibility of England occupying these inaccessible
provinces.

"I am not bound to answer the question why Europe did not interfere. I
say confidentially that none of the powers wished to interfere, and I believe
their view is that with patience the sul-
tan's prestige, which is the only power
left in the country, will ultimately re-
establish order and allow industry and
commerce to take their usual secure
course. That is their view, and it is our duty to give the sultan time. It is some encouragement to find that already
some degree of order is being restored.

"If you do not act with the great
powers, you must act against them, and
produce calamities far more awful and
terrible than the Armenian atrocities."

LYNCHERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

Negroes Urge West Virginia Authorities
to Take Action.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 1.—Negroes
have held another conference with the authorities of McDowell county, who
informed them that they would prosecute the members of the mob who participated in the lynching of Alex Jones.
Many arrests will follow.

After the state has finished with the mob, the Norfolk and Western railroad
will prosecute its members on the charge of interfering with United States mail and express by stopping the
train and taking Jones therefrom.

CHATTANOOGA, Feb. 1.—The opening
up of the Tennessee and Kentucky oil
fields is the wedge that will very shortly
split the oil market in two. Several dozen wells are being sunk in the counties of Northern Tennessee and Southern Kentucky. Pay oil has been struck in seven of these wells which yield from 10 to 100 barrels and upward in response to pumping.

The Standard Oil company has proposed to extend its pipe line from Sis-tersville, W. Va., into the region and put up tanks for storage at the wells as
soon as the daily product reaches 1,000
barrels. This time will not be far off,
for three-fourths of the farm and forest
land in F. Press, Overton, Pickett, Morgan and Scott counties, in Tennessee,
and Wayne, Pulaski, Clinton and Camberland, in Kentucky, has been leased to prospectors coming in the main from
New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The Standard Oil company, acting
through sub-committees, is very active
in Kentucky, but more so along the east
line of the district in Tennessee, where
they are now drilling three deep wells
on top of Cumberland plateau. Their leases in Tennessee are largely in excess
of 100,000 acres, but have not monopoly
of best locations. The Forest Oil company of Pittsburgh are their representatives in this field, the South Penn looking after their interests in Kentucky.
The former has had a resident agent at Rugby, Tenn., for six years, quietly acquiring oil and gas rights.

Gas has been struck in volume on
western limit of oil region and has in
several instances since 1892 caused great destruction of tools and machinery. Most of this immense territory is a thinly settled wilderness almost inaccessible.

IN HONOR OF HAMILTON.

Prominent Men Responded to Toasts at
the Banquet at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Many notable men
were present at the annual dinner of the Hamilton club in commemoration of the birth of Alexander Hamilton. President Samuel W. Allerton of the club
acted as toastmaster. It had been expected that Governor Levi P. Morton
of New York, ex-Secretary of the Interior, Noble of Missouri, and Senator J. B.
Forsaker of Ohio would be present, but
all three of them were unavoidably absent. Governor Bushnell of Ohio responded to the toast of "Republican Ohio" and Bishop Charles E. Cheney of
Chicago to "The Patriot." Prof. Booker
T. Washington of Alabama spoke upon
"Our New Citizen."

Hon. William H. Skaggs, president of the Southern and Southwestern Industrial association, was warmly received
when he rose to speak on "The Passing
of the Solid South."

Horrible Fate of a Workman.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 1.—Michael Crevick
at the Prospect breaker was in the dirt
chute when one of the loaders began to
"draw" dirt into a car. Crevick was buried in the dirt and it was impossible
for him to extricate himself. The loader
was unaware of Crevick's predicament
and continued drawing. Crevick died
of suffocation.

Forger Brigham Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Paul Brigham,
who pleaded guilty to having forged the
certificate of a check on the Columbia
National bank of Washington, by which
the Lincoln National bank of this city
was swindled out of $6,500, has been sentenced to seven years in state's prison
by Judge Cowing.

Jumped From a Steamer's Deck.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—T. E. Hughes
of Gainesville, Fla., has committed suicide by jumping from the deck of the steamer Tallahassee, on which he had come as a passenger from Boston, into the Delaware river.

Hung For a Triple Murder.

ALBANY, Or., Feb. 1.—Lloyd Montgomery, an 18-year-old boy, has been hung here. His crime was the murder of his father and mother and Daniel McKearcher on a farm near Brownsville,
Or., Nov. 19 last.

Two Miners Killed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 1.—A charge
of dynamite has exploded prematurely
on slope No. 2 at the Henry Ellen coal mines, and Evan Morgan of Ohio and George Beard of Alabama were almost instantly killed.

Remarkable Discovery of Plunder.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 1.—Thousands of dollars' worth of plunder has been found in caves under the homes of a gang of burglars and horse thieves in Florence, this county, by Sheriff An-driana.

McCarthy to Drop the Leadership.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Westminster Gazette says that it is almost certain that Justin McCarthy will not resume
the leadership of the Irish party in parliament after the reassembling of that body.

Sullivan Much Better.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Feb. 1.—John L.
Sullivan has no fever, and is sitting up in bed. The doctor is greatly encouraged over the progress made and hopes to have Sullivan out of bed in a week.

A Cashier Suicides.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Hon. George
Barnard, cashier of the Fort Stanwix
National bank of this place, has committed suicide. The bank has been closed pending an investigation.

Drank Lamp Oil and Camphor.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 1.—Mrs.
J. W. Dawkins, becoming mentally weak from loss of sleep, committed suicide at her home here, by drinking lamp-oil and camphor.

A Hunchback Hanged.

KALAMA, Wash., Feb. 1.—Charles Asimus, a hunchback, has been hanged
here for the murder of James Greenwood last September.

Called to a London Church.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 1.—Dr. John A. Brooks has received a call to the London Tabernacle, the largest Christian church in Europe.

Labor Leader Dempsey Released.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 1.—Labor Leader Dempsey has been released from the penitentiary.

DUNRAVEN IS WRONG.

His Charges Against Defender's
Owners Not Proven.

A FULL INVESTIGATION MADE.

The Committee Appointed by the New York Yacht Club Submits a Carefully
Prepared Report—Substance of the Evidence Submitted by Both Sides.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The committee
of the New York Yacht club, appointed
to examine into the charges made by Lord Dunraven, owner of the Valkyrie,
of crookedness on the part of the owners of the Defender, Messrs. C. Oliver
Iselin, Edwin D. Morgan and William
K. Vanderbilt, in the races for the America's cup, has decided that the Englishman's charges are not sustained.

The committee is composed of E. J.
Phipps, J. Pierpont Morgan, ex-Secretary, W. C. Whitney, Captain A. T. Ma-
han of the United States navy, and G.
L. Rives.

The charges referred to were contained in a pamphlet published by the Earl of Dunraven and reprinted in the London Field of Nov. 9, 1895, and
they were repeated by him in a speech
at Cardiff on the 21st of the same month.

Lord Dunraven's pamphlet, besides
the charge of secret alteration of the
water line length, contained various
criticisms of the competence or good
judgment of those who were charged with the management of the races on behalf of the New York Yacht club.

Lord Dunraven's statement in substance was that on Aug. 31, 1895, he observed the Defender very closely as she
lay in the Erie basin Sept. 6, he noticed
she was floating much lighter, and he especially noticed a small hole above the
water line. On the morning of Sept.
7, the day of the race, he noticed she
was deeper in the water when he rowed
up to the Defender in a gig, he looked
for the small hole and found it was no-
where visible, being under the water,
showing that the yacht had been sunk
deeper into the water. Other matters
also confirmed this belief.

That afterwards, and when the Val-
kyrie was towing out to start in the race, Mr. Latham Fish, a member of the
cup committee, came on board as the representative of the Defender; that Lord Dunraven then stated to Mr. Fish
that he was sure the Defender was not
sailing on her measured length, but was sunk deeper in the water, and was sailing
at least a foot beyond her proper length
of lead water line, and gave Mr. Fish
his reasons for that conclusion.

That he said to Mr. Fish that he wished the committee to put one of
their members, or some reliable representative, on board both of the yachts
immediately after the race, and desired
that the yachts should be remeasured
the same evening, if possible, but if
impossible, then that the representatives
of the cup committee should remain on
board the yachts until remeasurement
took place. And that the lead water line on both yachts should before the next race be designated by plain external marks.

That Mr. Fish promised to lay the complaint and request before the committee, and that immediately after the
race Mr. Fish was put on board the committee boat for the purpose of so doing.

Lord Dunraven also stated that the Hattie Palmer lay alongside of the Defender the night before the race, and
that work was going on till 11 in the morning on board the Defender. Other witnesses substantiated his statement.

In the evidence submitted by the De-
fender's owners, it was stated that the Defender was built and intended to sail
without loose ballast, but with her
tanks, fittings, etc., on board. The Val-
kyrie was found to be stripped of her
tanks, fittings, bulkheads, etc. On this account the Defender was also stripped.
In place of this loose ballast was substituted. The men worked at that on the night that Lord Dunraven mentions
that he saw the men at work until 1
o'clock in the morning.

The Defender is a boat of unusual
stability and power, and all the evidence, both scientific and practical, was
to the effect that additional ballast beyond what she originally contained was
not required, and would certainly have
diminished rather than improved the speed of the boat. It is plain, therefore, that no motive existed for increasing the ballast of the Defender.

It was clearly proved that no other balls were put in the boat. There were no tanks left on the boat into which to
put water for ballast. As the bulkheads
had been removed, there was no place
in which ballast could have been concealed.

In respect to the pipe hole on the port
side of the Defender, noticed by Lord
Dunraven at the time of the measurement the day before the race, and which
proved to be the discharge of the bilge
pump, it was shown by a careful measurement of representatives of the club
that when the vessel lay in still water,
trimmed and ballasted as she was on Sept. 8, the discharge hole would not be visible, being entirely below the lead-
water line.

To prove the correctness of this, Naval Constructor Bowles of the Brooklyn
navy yard, had Mr. Hibbs, assistant naval constructor, measure the boat and
his finding was the same.

It was also proved that the vessel, at
the time Lord Dunraven saw the hole,
was lying in the Erie basin, where the water was smooth. The next time he looked for the hole, she was in the
rough water off Sandy Hook, which
made quite a difference, also the proof
showed, that as the vessel lay in the Erie basin just before the official measurement on the 6th of September, she
had a slight list to starboard, probably
occasioned by the movement of the
crew to that side of the vessel before
they were put in position amidships for
the measurement. This would make
the hole visible on the other side from
the tipping of the vessel.

On the morning of the 7th, the coming of Lord Dunraven on the side of the
vessel where the hole was, caused a rush
of those on board which would have
tipped the boat deeper on that side.

In regard to Lord Dunraven's demand
for remeasurement it was proved that it
was impossible after the race, because
the Erie basin, where alone it could take place, was too far distant to be reached until too dark to make it; and

that Lord Dunraven was so informed
by Mr. Fish when the request was made.
The remeasurement that took place on the next day (Sunday) at 10 o'clock in the morning, was therefore the earliest possible.

In regard to the request, which Lord
Dunraven states that he made to Mr.
Fish for transmission to the cup committee, namely, that each of the two
yachts should be taken into the charge
of the committee for that night, it is
conclusively shown that no such request
reached the committee. Mr. Fish denies that any such request was included
in the message with which he was charged. It further appears that a memorandum of the message sent was made
by Mr. Fish in writing, which was produced and put in evidence, and contains
no allusion to the request in question.
This memorandum was made and read
to Lord Dunraven, who made a slight
correction.

The conclusion of the committee is as follows: "Upon careful consideration
of the whole case, the committee are
unanimously of the opinion that the
charge made by Lord Dunraven, and
which has been the subject of this investigation, had its origin in mistake;
that it is not only not sustained by evidence, but is completely disproved; and
that all the circumstances indicated by
him as giving rise to his suspicion, are
entirely and satisfactorily explained.

"They deem it, therefore, but just to
Mr. Iselin and the gentlemen concerned
with him, as well as to the officers and
crew of the Defender, that the committee should express emphatically their
conviction, that nothing whatever occurred in connection with the race in
question, that casts the least suspicion upon the integrity or propriety of their conduct.

"And the committee are not willing
to doubt, that if Lord Dunraven had remained present throughout the investigation, so as to have heard all the evidence that was introduced, he would of
his own motion have withdrawn a
charge that was so plainly founded
upon mistake, and that has been so un-
fortunate in the publicity it has attained,
and the feeling to which it has given
rise."

THE BIDDING FOR BONDS.

No Doubt That There Will Be More Than
the $100,000,000 Offered.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Nothing definite can be learned at the treasury department as to the number or amount
of bids already received for the new bonds. As fast as received the bids are deposited in a safe, where they will remain until next Wednesday, when they will be opened and their contents announced. It is certain, however, that a large number of bids have been received and every mail brings considerable additions.

As to the amounts or prices offered
even the secretary of the treasury knows
nothing, except in some few cases where
he has been privately advised by letter.
There seems to be no doubt that the amount of the bids will exceed the $100,- 000,000 to be offered, and it is expected
that the foreign offers will be considerably more than was expected when the loan was announced. The improved political situation abroad, it is believed,
will contribute to this end. The semi-official announcement that bidders who
intend to pay for their bonds in foreign
coin will be given the preference in making the awards is expected to stimulate foreign competition for the bonds.

THE VENEZUELAN COMMISSION.

Neither England or Venezuela Have Accepted the Invitations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Venezue-
lan commission has held its first weekly
meeting with all of the members present. Up to this time the commission
has not received notice from either the British or Venezuelan government of an intention to avail itself of the invitation extended to appear before the
commission through representatives.
Nothing has been determined yet as to
sending an agent to Europe to collect
evidence there for the consideration of the commission.

It is said that this work could not be
intelligently undertaken until the mass
of matter already before the commission has been thoroughly digested, and
a knowledge acquired of just what gaps
remain to be filled from the European archives.

To Stop Train Robberies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The epidemic
of train robberies in the Indian Territory has induced the house committee
on judiciary to approve a bill introduced
by Mr. Broderick of Kansas. The bill provides a penalty of not more than 20
years imprisonment for shooting at trains in the Indian Territory, throwing missiles at them or derailing trains. If any person is killed directly or indirectly the crime is made murder.

Decide to Seat Dupont.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate
committee on privileges and elections
decided to report in favor of seating
Dupont (Rep.) as senator from Delaware. The committee divided on strict
party lines, being five for to four against.

A Vote This Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The final vote
on the silver bond bill will be taken in
the senate this afternoon, an agreement
to that effect having been reached in the senate.

A Routine House Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The house confined itself to routine business. Most of the session was devoted to the District
of Columbia appropriation bill.

Doctor Stewart Was at the
First M. E. Church.

And Told the Large Audience How the
Cause is Being Pushed in Columbus—An
Anti-Saloon Meeting.

There was a splendid audience present at the First M. E. church last night, despite the drizzle, to take part in the temperance program. Rev. J. C. Taggart presided. After appropriate song service by the choir, Dr. John Lloyd Lee led in an eloquent prayer for God's blessing upon temperance and upon the Haskell bill, pleading that God may influence the legislators at Columbus to do their full duty in the direction of right against wrong—of sobriety and good citizenship against drunkenness and lawlessness.

Song service followed the prayer, and then the chairman made a few brief and telling remarks, showing the purpose of the meeting and what it had been called for, finishing his remarks by introducing Presiding Elder Stewart, who was in attendance upon the late convention at Columbus, called to urge the merits of the Haskell bill upon our legislators and lawmakers.

Reverend Stewart claimed his right as a man, asserting that every true minister of the Gospel should be in politics up to the arm pits; not the politics of party, but the politics of morals—in every political movement representing right and truth, moral interests and religion. He asserted that the great mass of electors of the state of Ohio, embracing Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Populists, favor greater restrictions being placed upon the liquor traffic, the horrible-horned monster of the century, and that adherence to party lines had, in the past, done much to hinder the advance of the temperance cause. "We must make this grand movement omni-partisan, omni-denominational, omni-sectarian. The temperance workers have been divided into three classes, at times working one against the other, while the liquor men have been a unit in concentrating every effort to the support of their damnable traffic. One class of temperance workers believe that the liquor cause can be legislated out of existence by taxing it to death, and this class are honest in their belief; but the idea is fallacious, as shown by the action of the liquor advocates at Columbus. They want the Harris bill killed, and not a single one of them object to the raising of the tax to $500. I verily believe that the liquor dealers aim to cultivate the idea of high taxation, in order to attract the anti-saloon workers from the vital point, in this battle of right against wrong.

"What about revenue to the national and state government? It has been demonstrated, by facts and figures, that for every dollar of revenue received by the government from the sale of intoxicants, it has cost the government $20. Is this good house-keeping?

"Bishop Watterson, that grand man of the Roman Catholic church, estimates that the liquor curse has cost the state of Ohio fifty-two millions of dollars in the past ten years, while the commonwealth has derived but two million five hundred thousand dollars in revenue. Shame on such legislation. Take your own city of East Liverpool, with its forty hell holes. Average the sales of each saloon at $10 per day; multiply this by 352 days in the year; then multiply by 40, the number of your saloons, and you have an idea of the enormity of the crime of dram drinking and drunkard making, the evil which wrecks and curses homes and lives. Look at your billiard halls, card rooms and houses of prostitution, fed and nurtured almost exclusively by the liquor curse, and you may have a faint idea of the enormity of the outrage perpetrated upon our citizens by this hydra-headed demon of rum.

"What is the aim of the dram seller? Money, money, money. He is in the business for this alone, and for it will sacrifice self-respect, manhood, the good opinion of his one-time friends and neighbors and lose his own soul. Is it not awful?

"By God's help we will wipe out the grog shops of Ohio. The grog keeper says that the anti-saloon movement is all froth and foam, and that when this is blown away there will be mighty little good water left in the glass. Thank God, I believe the movement has come to stay. Roman Catholics and Protestants have united against the common foe, and every priest and preacher in the land has the right to hurl his thunderbolts, in the name of God, against the monster. Yes, praise God, the movement has come to stay, clean cut and crystallized. At that glorious convention at Columbus there were four Catholic bishops upon the platform and twenty priests, the kindly Bishop Watterson, a noble man, working at his own expense and contributing money to the treasury. There also was Bishop Cleary, from beyond the Mississippi, and the bishops from Cleveland and from Cincinnati, with lawyers and laymen backing them up. On that common platform of good against evil were seen mighty men, strong men, men of brain and power, judges, congressmen, legislators, all in deadly earnest against the evil which is dragging our nation down to ruin.

"Judge West, of Bellefontaine, aged and weak physically, but keen-witted and brainy, described the power of the curse in his native place, until a mayor was selected who faced the devil of rum in his subterranean retreats, and when the police failed him, this heroic mayor did yeoman service personally, backed by good citizens, until the right triumphed and Bellefontaine was redeemed, and in the past seven years has increased about 100 per cent in population, while building and loan associations have sprung into existence and men are erecting homes upon every side; and these men, redeemed and made honest citizens, are paying accounts hoary with age and outlawed—debts contracted in consequence of the infamous liquor traffic. Men, if I was engaged in the grocery or dry goods business, I would do my best to wipe out the saloon and obtain the money—giving value received—that the saloonists are robbing the people of.

"In Columbus we received fair treatment from the daily papers and from the legislators, as well as the committee in charge of our special case. I believe that the Harris bill will come to the front and I sincerely hope that it may pass.

"We now have the sinews of war in the shape of money. For a time Treasurer Bayne was fearful along this line; but one morning he opened a letter and found therein a check for $1,000, the sender writing: 'When you need funds, draw on me, for this is God's fight.' My friends, you will have the opportunity of voting with your party, and still vote against the saloon. Thank God for this.

"Gallant General Steadman listened to the firing at Chicamauga, from an almost isolated position. At last he could bear it no longer, and said: 'Orders or no orders, I can't stand this any longer. I'm going after that fring.' And he did. Reaching the battlefield at a critical time, when the fight was at red heat, he addressed one of the commanding officers with: 'I've just arrived. My men are fresh; where shall we go in.' And quick came the response: 'In God's name go in anywhere—there's good fighting all around here.' And go in he did, and his command did glorious work for the country. Don't hesitate friends, in this terrific battle of right against wrong; there's good fighting on every hand. In God's name go in and do your duty.

"I am the proud father of a little boy, four years of age. He's a smart boy; he takes after his mother in this particular. He came running to his mother and said to her: 'Mamma, we're going to have twin chicks.' Asked the meaning of his remark, he shouted: 'Yes, we will have twin chicks, for there's two hens settin' on one egg.' My friends, we are going to get one great big hen, with wide spreading wings, and hatch out temperance people, as we are tired of the plan of permitting the saloonists to do all the hatching.

Reverend Stewart was the recipient of hearty applause at the close of his remarks. Reverend Taggart then read a memorial, addressed to our representatives at Columbus, urging them to take favorable action on the Harris bill, and a rising vote was called for, every one voting in favor—not one against. Colonel H. R. Hill was then called to the platform, amid hearty applause, and said:

"I believe in absolute, complete prohibition of the rum traffic. I am in favor of any movement which will restrict or better control it; but the effective feature must be absolute prohibition. On this subject, I am more accustomed to addressing 12 men, and not such an audience as is now before me. The young man—the minor—is prohibited from drinking, and a penalty faces the saloon-keeper who dares to sell intoxicants to him. He is carefully protected by home influence until after he is 20 years of age; but when he reaches 21, the saloonist has free and full right to ruin him. Our laws are good, as far as they go, on this question; but the great trouble is that they don't go far enough. Next on the statutes is the law in reference

Lost Her Watch.

A HIGHWAYMAN ON AVONDALE
He Followed the Young Woman Early in
the Evening and Then Saw Her Later in
Failed to Get the Prize.

Miss Gertie Bostock, daughter of James Bostock, a dishmaker at the china works, came near losing her watch last night.

She resides on the hill above Avondale street, and in company with several friends went to a house near the china works. On her way to the place she met a man on Avondale street who eyed her closely as she passed, and looked at her so intently that she was frightened. After leaving the house the girls started for home, and again met the man near the pottery. Again he was insulting in his scrutiny and Miss Bostock, to escape him, walked with her friends to Calcutta road. Near there she left them, and crossed by Bank street to Avondale in the hope of avoiding the man, but he had divined her purpose, and was at the corner when she arrived. The man stood in front of her, completely blocking the way, and asked what time it was. Very much frightened Miss Bostock drew out her watch and gave the desired answer, but that was not what the fellow wanted. He grabbed the watch, and pulled hard; but it was fastened by a stout ribbon, and Miss Bostock, having faith in her power, quickly jerked from his hold, and ran home. There is no clue to the man's identity, but he is described as a rough looking individual.

TWO DIVORCES ASKED.

Giddy.

Special to the News Review.
LISBON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Minnie Travis, a colored woman of this place, today brought suit against her husband asking a divorce. They were married four years ago, and she alleges cruelty.

William Wernett, of Hanover, wants a divorce from his wife, Mary Ann. He charges that she has neglected her duty to him, and has been unduly intimate with men on several occasions. The pair were married 16 years ago, and are well up in years.

To offset these evidences of matrimonial infidelity there were but two marriage licenses issued today. During the entire month there were only 41, a great decrease over the record for December.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

The Odd Fellows Ate, Danced and Were Merry.

The Odd Fellows ate, danced and were merry in their lodge rooms last night, and the evening was spent in enjoying themselves. Solicitor Clark made the address of the evening, and there were several recitations. David Jessop sang in a manner described by his friends as beautiful and Mrs. Chisholm presided at the piano. Covers were laid for 125 at the banquet, and there were no vacant seats. Dancing was then commenced, and continued until a late hour.

TWO DAUGHTERS ILL.

They Live Far Apart But are Near to Death.

Mrs. Frank Knowles, who resides not a great distance from the city, is very ill with typhoid fever, and it is feared she cannot recover. Mrs. W. E. Hutchenson, of Pittsburgh, has the spinal meningitis, and is very near to death. The ladies are sisters, and daughters of T. M. Bennett, of this city. They are well known here, and their friends will be pained to hear of their unfortunate condition.

REVERSED THE RULING.

Jury.

Squire Manley heard the arguments yesterday afternoon for a new trial in the case of the River Mills company against O. E. Aber, of Industry. He withheld his decision until this morning, and then told the attorneys that the verdict had been set aside and there would be a new trial. He did not believe the verdict was in accordance with the evidence.

A BIG PLANT.

The Park Company Will Improve Kenilworth.

There is a story afloat in the valley that the Park company, purchasers of the Porter plant at Kenilworth a few months ago, will make extensive improvements. They will begin immediately, and will have a large force at work very soon, enlarging the works. There are four kilns there at present, but 10 will be added right away. Houses will be built for the employees, and when completed it will be the largest brick plant in the valley. It is proposed to put in a switch from the works to the river.

A LAUGH ON HUTCHESON.

A Joke at His Expense in the House of Representatives.

Representative Hutcheson made a speech in the house of representatives at Columbus last week. It was his best effort, and he talked as though he had spent hours in its preparation. When he was done talking another representative arose and stated that he wanted to call the attention of the house to the fact that he had almost every word of that speech in a book at home. Mr. Hutcheson was indignant and said so, but the other member only smiled, and said he had the book there. The Columbiana county man dared him to produce it, and a roar of laughter went up from the house as he was handed a dictionary.

SEEN IN A FILTER.

All Sorts of Funny Things in the Water.

A prominent resident who owns a filter had occasion to clean it out the other day, and he was telling some friends about it this afternoon.

"You should see that thing," he said, "and you would never again drink raw water from the river. There were all kinds of filth in the filter, and the whole made up a mess that would almost turn your stomach. I never imagined the water was so impure until then, and I don't believe I would have believed it unless I had seen it. It is no wonder the people have typhoid fever."

OUR REPRESENTATION.

Who Will be in the National Convention.

The Alliance Review asks who will represent this congressional district in the St. Louis convention, and then points out that Judge Smith, of Wellsville, is a candidate. There seems to be nothing in it but the Review means W. L. Smith, of this city. Mr. Smith's friends here are determined to seat him in the convention, and are already talking about it. He has always been active in politics, but never asked an office, and they want to give him the honor. The delegates will be chosen at the congressional convention.

BUILDING A WALK.

Avondale People are Weary of Walking
in Mud.

People of Avondale street have at last grown weary of walking through the mud, and workmen today began laying a walk from Minerva to Ravine street. It is not much more than a square, but it covers up a vast deal of mud, and when completed the walk will be greatly appreciated. Other residents of the street hope that the people in that part of the city can come together, and decide upon a plan that will result in the laying of a walk to Bank street. The mud is very deep.

A GOOD MEETING.

Many Delegates at the State Board of Health.

Doctor Ogden and daughter are home from Columbus where the doctor attended the meeting of the state board of health. It was the best meeting the organization ever held, and the attendance was much larger than usual. Among the principal features was a paper by Mrs. Thomas L. Johnson, of Cleveland. The doctor was greatly pleased with the meeting where he heard many excellent ideas advanced and discussed.

A Drive in the Mud.

E. S. Davis a traveling salesman of Akron, drove to this city this afternoon from Lisbon, and when he reached here he was covered with mud as with a mantle. He said the roads were in awful condition and it was the hardest drive he ever had, though he has been over some rough roads. In places the wheels sank to the hubs, and the horses could not be forced into much more than a slow trot. Mr. Davis said the pottery at Akron was running with a full force.

Free Silver Amendment.

Special to the News Review.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate finance committee are victors. The free silver amendment to the house bond bill passed the senate today by a vote of 43 to 34.

Moved to the Country.

Will Smith, who has for some time been a resident of the Calcutta road, moved this week with his family to the country.

DIED IN AN OIL TANK

Two Men Overcome By Gas
Near Hollow Rock.

HUNDREDS VISIT THE SCENE

Edmonston Went Into the Tank and Dropped—His Father Followed, But Was
Back and Died Very Soon.

The most tragic happening in the history of the oil field below Wellsville occurred yesterday afternoon, and as a consequence two men are dead.

A big tank had been built near the Edmonston well, not far from Hollow Rock, and the oil was just being turned into it. Desirous of obtaining a sample of the fluid, Charles Edmonston went down through the manhole in the roof and was obtaining the amount wanted when he was overcome by gas. His long absence caused alarm among the people who were waiting for his return, and the father, Joseph Edmonston, went after him. He, too, was overcome, and was almost in a dying condition when James Mackall, of Wellsville, rescued him. He succeeded in getting the old man out in safety, but fell back into the tank and soon expired. The bodies were recovered and taken home, and great crowds of people thronged to the scene of the accident. Mackall had a wife and child in Wellsville, and was very well known among the oil men of this vicinity. He had a large circle of friends in this city. He was a brave man and those who know him best can well understand the motive which prompted him to rescue his employer.

ABANDONED THE PLAN.

Trades Council Might Have Had a Library.

A member of Trades council had in his breast for some time a plan to form a library and reading room for the members of the council and working men in general. He wanted to rent a few rooms in the business part of town, furnish them as well as the council could afford, secure donations of books and papers from any place where they could be obtained, and conduct the place so that it would be an advantage to all concerned. It is understood that the plan was voted down at the last meeting of the council, but it will be taken up again.

MRS. LYONS WON.

She Got a Judgment for Keeping Mrs.
Latham.

In the court of Squire Rose this morning Mrs. Belle Lyons got judgment against Miss Amanda McLaughlin for $300, the amount for which she sued. Mrs. Lyons agreed with the defendant to keep Mrs. Latham, an aged woman who died in Calcutta recently, for $3 a week, and $400 at her death. The amount was not paid when Mrs. Lyons presented her bill and she brought suit. The other case, which has the same principals, was postponed until more evidence can be secured.

A True Philanthropist.

The Farmer Talked.

A laughable colloquy took place in the Diamond this morning between a long haired individual in a wagon and the fakir who was disposing of cheap jewelry. The exchange of personalities was the source of much amusement for a number of spectators.

No Fakirs in the Diamond.

An old soldier who was selling his wares in the Diamond this morning was compelled to move out because he had no license. Mayor Gilbert let him down easy, and exacted no fine because he is a veteran of the late war.

Not Going to Columbus.

Remus Shenkle will not study in the school of ceramics at the Ohio university at Columbus this term. He will remain in this city, and has not yet decided whether he will take up his studies next year.

Detained in Washington.

J. J. Purinton, who is in Washington looking after the case of Frank Lenz, will not be home until Monday the business having required more time than he anticipated.

Going to Florida.

Some Signs of Definite Improvement, Though Business Still Waits.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued to-day, says: Though business is still waiting, there are some signs of definite improvement. It is now believed that the first payment for bonds will cause no further pressure and the money markets are easier as respect loans on collateral, though the difficulty of making commercial loans still check operations. A good spring trade is predicted. Signs of improvement in the iron and steel business are gratifying, even though they spring from combinations which have raised the price of coke and allotted the output of lake iron ore. There is also a better demand for wire nails, after long stagnation, and also for sheets. Pigiron is rather weaker, southern works competing sharply, while speculative buyers of some months ago are selling below present furnace prices, but the average for all products is practically unchanged and 11.4 per cent below the highest last year. Coke production has been cut down 10,975 tons in a single week. Minor metals are strengthened a shade by speculation. Sales of wool at the three chief markets 9,995,630 pounds domestic in January against 18,604,615 last year, but 14,074,900 foreign against 5,551,550 last year have diminished of late, manufacturers buying only for present needs. Wheat has again advanced about 3 cents for cash, but only 1 1/2 cents for May, although Atlantic exports are little larger than a year ago. Corn has ceased to "sympathize" and records little advance. The failures for the week have been 404 in the United States, against 354 last year, and 70 in Canada, against 54 last year.
FLOPPED TO REED.
Some Changes in the Louisiana Delegation to St. Louis.
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1.—The Republican state convention has adjourned sine die. The following were elected delegates for the state at large to the St. Louis convention: William Pitt Kellogg, A. H. Leonard, Henry Demas, J. Madison Vance. Thomas A. Cage finally beat the combination formed against him early in the day by Hero, Warmoth and Guichard and others, McKinley men, and was again elected permanent chairman of the body. Kellogg, the Reed leader, also finally got on as a delegate-at-large. The statement is made that Vance, who was a pronounced McKinley man until he ascertained that the convention was for Reed, then made terms with Kellogg by promising to vote for Reed. Demas, it is said, did not commit himself on the presidential question until he saw that the Reed men had the convention. He then made terms with the Reed people.
THREE PERSONS KILLED.
A Fatal Boiler Explosion at Freeport, O. Two Injured.
FREEPORT, O., Feb. 1.—The boiler in the stove mill on William Morrison's farm has exploded, killing three persons and injuring two. The dead are William Laporte, engineer of Tippecanoe, O.; William Kiefer, Leavittsburg, O.; and Roy Vesey of Warren, O. Their bodies were thrown distances of from 60 to 300 feet and frightfully mangled. Isaac Morrison and his young son of Londonderry, O., who were sitting on a log outside the mill, were struck by a flying buzz saw and severely hurt. Laporte leaves a wife and two children, but Kiefer and Vesey were unmarried.
Vesey had $500 upon his person and it was found scattered upon the ground and in the tree tops. The clothing of the three dead men was stripped from their bodies by the explosion and lodged in the neighboring bushes and trees. The boiler was blown to fragments and the mill wrecked.
Embezzler Escapes and Is Recaptured.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Clarence Murphy has been arrested here. He is wanted at Salem, Mass., for alleged embezzlement of $90,000 two years ago from the Salem Savings bank. He escaped from the detectives, but was pursued by policemen, fired at, and finally recaptured.
A Yarn From Kentucky.
LANCASTER, Ky., Feb. 1.—Dr. J. B. Kinnard reports a patient that expelled from the stomach something five inches long, resembling a water dog. He says she had been drinking river water at Danville.
A Horse Thieving Family.
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 1.—Judge Jackson has sentenced Charles, Jesse, Marion and Cornelius Ball to the penitentiary for horsetealing. Three are brothers, Cornelius is a son of one of them.
The Seventh Victim Dies.
HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Feb. 1.—Samuel Marks, one of the victims of the boiler explosion, has died, making the seventh death due to the terrible accident. Samuel Kephart, John Woerner, Superintendent E. F. Cramer and Robert Marks are not expected to recover.
To Investigate Tariff Discrimination.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The house committee on ways and means has adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of tariff discriminations against American products and of the effect of the repeal of the reciprocity laws.
Prince Ferdinand's Resignation.
ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1.—It is asserted in Slavophile circles that the Bulgarian question is approaching a solution, and that Prince Ferdinand's resignation is only a matter of time.

LOCAL BREVITIES.
John Messer, a resident of Chester, is very sick, typhoid fever being the cause.
There is a rumor in the East End that the sewer pipe works will soon be placed in operation.
A pleasant party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Pilgrim on Railroad street last night.
Mr. Johnson, a well known resident of East End, is very low with typhoid fever, and he is not expected to recover.
George Rigby is here from Leetonia, and says the pottery there will be started on Monday morning with a full force.
Dr. G. W. Spahr, a prominent resident of Fredericktown who is well known here, is very ill, and may not recover.
The Bedford went down last night and the Success passed up with a tow of empties, some of them being taken from this place.
The first fair of the season had a place in the Diamond last night, but failed to walk away with his pockets full of jingling gold.
Harry Marks, a member of the Manley band, went to Orrville yesterday and will tonight take part in an entertainment given there by the Grand Army.
Miss Maggie Colclough, of Minerva street, was agreeably surprised by a number of friends last evening, and a pleasant time was the result.
Louis Satou, a fireman employed on the Fort Wayne road, and Miss Kittle McGuire, a young woman of this city, will be married in Wellsville in a few weeks.
Services will be held in the Second U. P. church every night next week. The pastor, Reverend Green, being assisted by Reverend Barrackman, of Salineville.
The poultry association have a meeting in city hall tonight for the purpose of arranging for the show next December. They want to make it the best one ever held in the county.
Captain Freese went to Pittsburgh this morning, after a stay of several days in the city and immediate vicinity. He has nothing to say of the railroad, declaring that he knows nothing new.
Miss Odessa Phillips delightfully entertained a large number of friends at her residence on Fourth street last night. It was a leap year, and the young people had a delightful time.
The quarantine at the diphtheria stricken residence of Patrick Craig in West End, was lifted today, and the family allowed to go out. The house was fumigated earlier in the week.
There has been a steady increase in the amount of business done at the freight depot this week, and the number of cars to be handled had reached such proportions today as to compel the employment of another man.
Work on the improvements at the freight depot is done, and the carpenters went to their homes today. The office is not yet ready for occupancy, but the force will be placed in it as soon as the stoves and some other small matters are attended to.
James K. Myler, a wing shot who resides in Beaver and is very well known in this city, was in town last night. He has come into possession of a tract of fine oil land near Sistersville, and expects to have a few paying wells. Drilling will be started next week.
The dense fog which hung over the river this morning caused no end of commotion. Several people who crossed in boats got lost, and landed far below the Broadway wharf. Others were not so fortunate, and rowed back to the Virginia shore for a fresh start.
A number of young men in the city who have great desires in the direction of hirsute decoration, have agreed to let the hair on their upper lips grow for three months. At the end of that time stock will be taken, and he who has the smallest mustache will buy supper for the others.
The horrible condition of the Calcutta road can best be illustrated by an incident. A woman walking in the road neglected to pull one of her feet far enough out of the mud before taking a step, and fell down. All the people in that part of town who can afford it, are wearing gum boots.
The presses in the job department of the News Review are turning out the greater part of the work done in the city, and the sole reason for it is the excellence of the product. Good material and artistic workmen work wonders in a newspaper office, and these are what the News Review always has.
The project of the new hospital organization as given last night in the News Review excited general commendation in the city. All agreed that the ladies had adopted the right course, and it was now the duty of the city to help them in every possible way. There is no doubt about moral support, but the most needed now is some financial help.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, FEB. 1.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

The newspapers which seem anxious
to announce at the slightest excuse
that General Gomez is dead must take it all back again. He is as much alive
and lively as ever.

PERHAPS some of the disappointed
Democrats of the Eighteenth, who got nothing when the plumes were passed
around, would consent to be the party's
candidate for president.

AMBASSADOR BAYARD, he who de-
lights in ridiculing Americans for the benefit of the English, appeared at a banquet in London the other day, and
was cheered to the echo. Naturally.

PEOPLE who watched the stirring
times which followed the Homestead
riots and remember the general un-
easiness of those stormy days can now
close the book—Dempsey is pardoned.

THERE would be joy in the McKinley quarter if that long headed politician who is known to fame as Matthew Stanley Quay would come riding
into camp and ask to be enrolled under the banner of the great protec-
tionist.

CITIZEN MCKINLEY.

Those Buckeye politicians, Democratic and otherwise, who pretend to
believe that William McKinley is not
a great man, should learn wisdom
from these words found in the New York Mail and Express:

"From the point of view of the man
whose god is mammon, Major McKin-ley's career has been an awful failure.
McKinley's heart and hands are too
open, his sense of personal honor too
exalted, his devotion to his friends
too confiding to permit him to enter
upon the second quarter of his married
life with any more of the world's goods
than he had at the start. But the executor has accumulated that which he would not exchange for the wealth of the Indies and the Rand. He
"hath honor, love, obedience, troops
of friends." He has neglected his
personal interests, but the interests
of the nation and of the people have
been diligently served. He has
sacrificed his estate to save the honor
of a friend, and has twice waved aside
a presidential nomination which
might have been his, because he felt
honorably bound to secure the nomination of another. Yet there are
possessions more valuable than houses
and money and lands, or than the
highest office in the gift of the people,
unworthily secured, and in these
possessions William McKinley is
wealthier than a score of Brices.
Whatever the future has in store for
him, the past is secure, and in it there
is nothing but should add to the
happiness and peaceful content of the McKinley couple today."

The great majority of men and
women, of even very much more than
ordinary intelligence, pay no attention
whatsoever to the well established
rules governing the preservation of
health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the
stomach or system are treated by them
as trivial happenings, having no weight
or bearing upon their general health.
In this seeming neglect or too much
over confidence in their own robust-
ness lies the greatest mistake of their
lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases
evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron
and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves,
perfect strength and tissue producer,
and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

Go to the rink Saturday night,
Feb. 1. See the hot race between Hale, the famous bicycle rider,

EUROPE WON'T MEDDLE

Salisbury Explains the Powers'
Attitude Toward Turkey.

HE ALSO DEFENDS THE SULTAN.

Not to Blame For Massacres and Is En-
forcing Reforms—England Has Not
Military Power to Interfere—His Position on the Monroe Doctrine.

Non-Conformist Unionist association at
the Hotel Metropole was the occasion
for an address by the Marquis of Salisbury, prime minister and secretary of
state for foreign affairs.
In the course of his remarks he said,
with reference to Venezuela:
"I have been held up as the denouncer
of the Monroe doctrine. As a matter of
fact, although the Monroe doctrine is no
part of international law, my dispatch
to Mr. Olney, the secretary of state of the United States, supported it as a rule
of policy in the strongest and most distinct terms."
"But when I stated in that dispatch
and reiterated now, that as a rule of
policy, we are the entire advocate of the Monroe doctrine, we mean the Monroe
doctrine as President Monroe understood it (cheers). In that sense you will
not find any more convinced supporters
than we are."

Lord Salisbury then turned abruptly
to the Armenian question, and he re-
proached the religious communities
with laboring under a mistake, when
they supposed that England had bound
herself to succor the Armenians, which
means to go to war with the sultan in order to force him to govern the Armenians well. The Berlin treaty, Lord Salisbury said, merely bound the signatory
powers that if the sultan promulgated
certain reforms they would watch over
the execution of those reforms. Nothing more. It did not mean to go to war
to force reforms.
"I was concerned in the drafting of
that convention," Lord Salisbury said,
"and nothing would have induced me
to pledge my country to such a desperate undertaking."

The speaker reminded his hearers
that the reforms which the sultan had
recently accepted, although good re-
forms, could not be expected to produce
good government in two months.
Lord Salisbury said he did not believe that the sultan was to blame for the Armenian massacres. It was race faction and creed faction driven to the
highest point in their most corrupt and
most horrible form, which brought upon
the wretched Armenians these terrible
sufferings.

"If you ask why we have not inter-
fered, I can only answer for England
that we could have threatened what I
may call annoyances in the seizing of
customs here and there; but when you
are dealing with the rising of a whole
fanatical population against a population with whom they have been at bitter
enmity for ages and who are situated in
mountains far removed from the sea-
shore, you are deceiving yourselves if
you imagine that England's arm, long
as it is, could have done anything in
mitigation. Nothing but military occupation could have done it and England
does not possess the power of military
occupation at that distance."

Mr. Gladstone wrote a letter that England could cope with five or six Turkeys. That was a most ill-judged and
rash assertion. If the sultan would meet
us on the open sea undoubtedly we could
cope with five or six sultans, but it is
not worth arguing the possibility of England occupying these inaccessible
provinces.

"I am not bound to answer the question why Europe did not interfere. I
say confidentially that none of the pow-
ers wished to interfere, and I believe
their view is that with patience the sul-
tan's prestige, which is the only power
left in the country, will ultimately re-
establish order and allow industry and
commerce to take their usual secure
course. That is their view, and it is our duty to give the sultan time. It is some
encouragement to find that already
some degree of order is being restored."
"If you do not act with the great
powers, you must act against them, and
produce calamities far more awful and
terrible than the Armenian atrocities."

LYNCHERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

Negroes Urge West Virginia Authorities
to Take Action.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 1.—Negroes
have held another conference with the
authorities of McDowell county, who
informed them that they would prose-
cute the members of the mob who participated in the lynching of Alex Jones.
Many arrests will follow.

After the state has finished with the
mob, the Norfolk and Western railroad
will prosecute its members on the
charge of interfering with United States mail and express by stopping the
train and taking Jones therefrom.

VALUABLE OIL FIELDS.

Fortunes to Be Made in Northern Tennessee and Southern Kentucky.

CHATTANOOGA, Feb. 1.—The opening
up of the Tennessee and Kentucky oil
fields is the wedge that will very shortly
split the oil market in two. Several
dozen wells are being sunk in the counties of Northern Tennessee and Southern Kentucky. Pay oil has been struck
in seven of these wells which yield from 10 to 100 barrels and upward in response to pumping.

The Standard Oil company has proposed to extend its pipe line from Sis-terville, W. Va., into the region and
put up tanks for storage at the wells as
soon as the daily product reaches 1,000
barrels. This time will not be far off,
for three-fourths of the farm and forest
land in Fentress, Overton, Pickett, Morgan and Scott counties, in Tennessee,
and Wayne, Pulaski, Clinton and Cumberland, in Kentucky, has been leased to prospectors coming in the main from
New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.
The Standard Oil company, acting
through sub-committees, is very active
in Kentucky, but more so along the east
line of the district in Tennessee, where
they are now drilling three deep wells
on top of Cumberland plateau. Their
leases in Tennessee are largely in excess
of 100,000 acres, but have not monopoly
of best locations. The Forest Oil company of Pittsburgh are their representatives in this field, the South Penn looking after their interests in Kentucky.
The former has had a resident agent at Rugby, Tenn., for six years, quietly acquiring oil and gas rights.
Gas has been struck in volume on
western limit of oil region and has in
several instances since 1892 caused great
destruction of tools and machinery.
Most of this immense territory is a
thinly settled wilderness almost inaccessible.

IN HONOR OF HAMILTON.

Prominent Men Responded to Toasts at
the Banquet at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Many notable men
were present at the annual dinner of the Hamilton club in commemoration of the
birth of Alexander Hamilton. President Samuel W. Allerton of the club
acted as toastmaster. It had been expected that Governor Levi P. Morton
of New York, ex-Secretary of the Interior Noble of Missouri, and Senator J. B.
Forsaker of Ohio would be present, but
all three of them were unavoidably absent. Governor Bushnell of Ohio responded to the toast of "Republican Ohio" and Bishop Charles E. Cheney of
Chicago to "The Patriot." Prof. Booker
T. Washington of Alabama spoke upon
"Our New Citizen."
Hon. William H. Skaggs, president of
the Southern and Southwestern Industrial association, was warmly received
when he rose to speak on "The Passing

Horrible Fate of a Workman.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 1.—Michael Crevick
at the Prospect breaker was in the dirt
chute when one of the loaders began to
draw" dirt into a car. Crevick was buried in the dirt and it was impossible
for him to extricate himself. The loader
was unaware of Crevick's predicament
and continued drawing. Crevick died
of suffocation.

Forger Brigham Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Paul Brigham,
who pleaded guilty to having forged the
certificate of a check on the Columbia
National bank of Washington, by which
the Lincoln National bank of this city
was swindled out of $6,500, has been
sentenced to seven years in state's prison
by Judge Cowing.

Jumped From a Steamer's Deck.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—T. E. Hughes

DUNRAVEN IS WRONG.

His Charges Against Defender's

A FULL INVESTIGATION MADE.

The Committee Appointed by the New York Yacht Club Submits a Carefully
Prepared Report—Substance of the Evidence Submitted by Both Sides.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The committee
of the New York Yacht club, appointed
to examine into the charges made by
Lord Dunraven, owner of the Valkyrie,
of crookedness on the part of the owners of the Defender, Messrs. C. Oliver
Iselin, Edwin D. Morgan and William
K. Vanderbilt, in the races for the America's cup, has decided that the
Englishman's charges are not sustained.
The committee is composed of E. J.
Phipps, J. Pierpont Morgan, ex-Secre-
tary W. C. Whitney, Captain A. T. Ma-
han of the United States navy, and G.
L. Rives.

The charges referred to were contained in a pamphlet published by the Earl of Dunraven and reprinted in the London Field of Nov. 9, 1895, and
they were repeated by him in a speech
at Cardiff on the 21st of the same
month.

Lord Dunraven's pamphlet, besides
the charge of secret alteration of the
water line length, contained various
criticisms of the competence or good
judgment of those who were charged
with the management of the races on behalf of the New York Yacht club.

Lord Dunraven's statement in sub-
stance was that on Aug. 31, 1895, he observed the Defender very closely as she
lay in the Erie basin Sept. 6, he noticed
she was floating much lighter, and he
especially noticed a small hole above the
water line. On the morning of Sept.
7, the day of the race, he noticed she
was deeper in the water when he rowed
up to the Defender in his gig, he looked
for the small hole and found it was no-
where visible, being under the water,
showing that the yacht had been sunk
deeper into the water. Other matters
also confirmed this belief.

That afterwards, and when the Val-
kyrie was towing out to start in the
race, Mr. Latham Fish, a member of the
cup committee, came on board as the
representative of the Defender; that Lord Dunraven then stated to Mr. Fish
that he was sure the Defender was not
sailing on her measured length, but was
more deeply immersed, and was sailing
at least a foot beyond her proper length
of load water line, and gave Mr. Fish
his reasons for that conclusion.

That he said to Mr. Fish that he wished the committee to put one of
their members, or some reliable representative, on board both of the yachts
immediately after the race, and desired
that the yachts should be remeasured
the same evening, if possible, but if
impossible, then that the representatives
of the cup committee should remain on
board the yachts until remeasurement
took place. And that the load water
line on both yachts should before the next race be designated by plain external marks.

That Mr. Fish promised to lay the complaint and request before the committee, and that immediately after the
race Mr. Fish was put on board the committee boat for the purpose of so doing.
Lord Dunraven also stated that the Hattie Palmer lay alongside of the Defender the night before the race, and
that work was going on till 1 in the
morning on board the Defender. Other
witnesses substantiated his statement.

In the evidence submitted by the De-
fender's owners, it was stated that the Defender was built and intended to sail
without loose ballast, but with her
tanks, fittings, etc., on board. The Val-
kyrie was found to be stripped of her
tanks, fittings, bulkheads, etc. On this account the Defender was also stripped.
In place of this loose ballast was substituted. The men worked at that on
the night that Lord Dunraven mentions
that he saw the men at work until 1
o'clock in the morning.

The Defender is a boat of unusual
stability and power, and all the evidence, both scientific and practical, was
to the effect that additional ballast beyond what she originally contained was
not required, and would certainly have
diminished rather than improved the
speed of the boat. It is plain, therefore, that no motive existed for increasing the ballast of the Defender.

It was clearly proved that no other ballast was put in the boat. There were no tanks left on the boat into which to
put water for ballast. As the bulkheads
had been removed, there was no place
in which ballast could have been concealed.

In respect to the pipe hole on the port
side of the Defender, noticed by Lord
Dunraven at the time of the measure-
ment the day before the race, and which
proved to be the discharge of the bilge
pump, it was shown by a careful mea-
surement of representatives of the club
that when the vessel lay in still water,
trimmed and ballasted as she was on Sept. 8, the discharge hole would not be visible, being entirely below the load-
water line.

To prove the correctness of this, Naval Constructor Bowles of the Brooklyn
navy yard, had Mr. Hibbs, assistant
naval constructor, measure the boat and
his finding was the same.

It was also proved that the vessel, at
the time Lord Dunraven saw the hole,
was lying in the Erie basin, where the
water was smooth. The next time he looked for the hole, she was in the
rough water off Sandy Hook, which
made quite a difference, also the proof
showed, that as the vessel lay in the Erie basin just before the official measurement on the 6th of September, she
had a slight list to starboard, probably
occasioned by the movement of the
crew to that side of the vessel before
they were put in position amidships for
the measurement. This would make
the hole visible on the other side from
the tipping of the vessel.

On the morning of the 7th, the coming of Lord Dunraven on the side of the
vessel where the hole was, caused a rush
of those on board which would have
tipped the boat deeper on that side.

In regard to Lord Dunraven's demand
for remeasurement it was proved that it
was impossible after the race, because
the Erie basin, where alone it could
take place, was too far distant to be

reached until too dark to make it; and
that Lord Dunraven was so informed
by Mr. Fish when the request was made.
The remeasurement that took place on
the next day (Sunday) at 10 o'clock in
the morning, was therefore the earliest
possible.

In regard to the request, which Lord
Dunraven states that he made to Mr.
Fish for transmission to the cup committee, namely, that each of the two
yachts should be taken into the charge
of the committee for that night, it is
conclusively shown that no such request
reached the committee. Mr. Fish de-
nies that any such request was included
in the message with which he was
charged. It further appears that a memorandum of the message sent was made
by Mr. Fish in writing, which was produced and put in evidence, and contains
no allusion to the request in question.
This memorandum was made and read
to Lord Dunraven, who made a slight
correction.

The conclusion of the committee is as follows: "Upon careful consideration
of the whole case, the committee are
unanimously of the opinion that the
charge made by Lord Dunraven, and
which has been the subject of this investigation, had its origin in mistake;
that it is not only not sustained by evidence, but is completely disproved; and
that all the circumstances indicated by
him as giving rise to his suspicion, are
entirely and satisfactorily explained."
"They deem it, therefore, but just to
Mr. Iselin and the gentlemen concerned
with him, as well as to the officers and
crew of the Defender, that the committee should express emphatically their
conviction, that nothing whatever occurred in connection with the race in
question, that casts the least suspicion
upon the integrity or propriety of their
conduct."

"And the committee are not willing
to doubt, that if Lord Dunraven had remained present throughout the investigation, so as to have heard all the evidence that was introduced, he would of
his own motion have withdrawn a
charge that was so plainly founded
upon mistake, and that has been so un-
fortunate in the publicity it has attained,
and the feeling to which it has given
rise."

THE BIDDING FOR BONDS.

No Doubt That There Will Be More Than
the $100,000,000 Offered.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Nothing definite can be learned at the treasury department as to the number or amount
of bids already received for the new
bonds. As fast as received the bids are
deposited in a safe, where they will remain until next Wednesday, when they
will be opened and their contents announced. It is certain, however, that a large number of bids have been received
and every mail brings considerable additions.

As to the amounts or prices offered
even the secretary of the treasury knows
nothing, except in some few cases where
he has been privately advised by letter.
There seems to be no doubt that the
amount of the bids will exceed the $100-000,000 to be offered, and it is expected
that the foreign offers will be considerably more than was expected when the
loan was announced. The improved political situation abroad, it is believed,
will contribute to this end. The semi-
official announcement that bidders who
intend to pay for their bonds in foreign
coin will be given the preference in making the awards is expected to stimulate foreign competition for the bonds.

THE VENEZUELAN COMMISSION.

Neither England or Venezuela Have Accepted the Invitations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Venezue-
lan commission has held its first weekly
meeting with all of the members present. Up to this time the commission
has not received notice from either the British or Venezuelan government of an
intention to avail itself of the invitation extended to appear before the
commission through representatives.
Nothing has been determined yet as to
sending an agent to Europe to collect
evidence there for the consideration of
the commission.

It is said that this work could not be
intelligently undertaken until the mass
of matter already before the commission has been thoroughly digested, and
a knowledge acquired of just what gaps
remain to be filled from the European
archives.

To Stop Train Robberies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The epidemic
of train robberies in the Indian Territory has induced the house committee
on judiciary to approve a bill introduced
by Mr. Broderick of Kansas. The bill
provides a penalty of not more than 20
years imprisonment for shooting at
trains in the Indian Territory, throwing
missiles at them or derailing trains. If
any person is killed directly or in-

Decide to Seat Dupont.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate
committee on privileges and elections
decided to report in favor of seating
Dupont (Rep.) as senator from Delaware. The committee divided on strict
party lines, being five for to four against.

A Vote This Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The final vote
on the silver bond bill will be taken in
the senate this afternoon, an agreement
to that effect having been reached in the senate.

A Routine House Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The house confined itself to routine business. Most of the session was devoted to the District
of Columbia appropriation bill.

GEO. C. MURPHY

The Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher, Will Save You Money.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and hustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. Rent and a hundred other expenses go on just as before, and as we can't make money anyway, we might as well lose it with a crowd as in solitude. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. For example, if a coat is marked $16 take it along at $12; or if marked at $8 take it along at $6. In our suit and pants department we will make you reductions that will open your eyes. Come at once as our stock must be reduced.

AN INTERESTING BOOK

"The Wonderful," a Story For Young People.

BY THE REV. WILL E. SLOANE

This Work Is One of the Deepest Interest, and Will Be Read With Eagerness. It Has Won Warm Commendation at the Hands of Competent, Trustworthy Critics.

A story of the life of Christ, told by the recorded conversations of a Jewish family of eminence, who, from His birth, accepted Him as the looked for Messiah, and anxiously waited the time when He should fulfill their idea of His mission and redeem Israel from the power of the Romans; but were led finally to understand that He came not as a temporal ruler, but as King of kings and Lord of lords. The events are related in their historical sequence and in connection with the temporary history of the Jews.

Read the following commendation, from a source deserving of consideration. It is but one of many in Reverend Sloan's possession:

"PRINCETON, N. J.
"I think your conception of the book is very excellent and likely to prove useful. The setting of the story is natural and you present such a picture of Christ's life as would interest, I think, especially intelligent young people. I must congratulate you on the accuracy with which you relate the events, and the simplicity of your outline. I think that you have made a very impressive and lifelike and to young readers useful recital of the Saviour's life in its historical frame and progress.

"Yours fraternally,
"GEORGE T. PURVES."
Rev. George T. Purves, D. D., is professor of New Testament Exegesis in the Princeton Theological seminary. Illustrated. Price, $1.25. Fleming H. Revell Co., New York city. For sale by Ferguson & Hill, Diamond, East Liverpool.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Drummer-Koy Young Makes Reply to H. F. Schenkel.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I am a believer in fair play, in truth, right and justice, and my former employer, H. F. Schenkel, has not given me just treatment by any manner of means, either as an employee, or in his false statements published in the News Review of last night. I was absent from the city a short time lately, and returned a few days before the rendition of Faust at the opera house. On the evening of the giving of that play, H. F. Schenkel came to me and told me to get my drum, as he expected me to play as usual. I complied with his request and also played for seven shows at the Grand since that time, positive evidence, on the face of affairs, that I had not been discharged or displaced. Further than this, I have a reliable witness to prove that H. F. Schenkel said he had no intention of giving my position to anyone else and that he could not get a competent drummer in this section, aside from myself. When Williams came and took my place in the orchestra, he remarked: "Roy, you must not blame me, as Schenkel told me to take your place." I can prove that I am thoroughly competent to fill the position I occupied, much more so than Williams, as I thoroughly understand the class of music common to operatic work, having been carefully schooled and trained by Professor Wolfe, of Wells-ville. Further, I am a member of the musical union, in good standing, and I shall convince Messrs. Schenkel and Williams that they have made a serious blunder in treating me in the unjust manner they have. The management of the opera house certainly do understand the facts in the case, and they showed their appreciation of my playing when they advanced me money to purchase a superb snare drum.

ROY YOUNG.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Will deliver an address at the Salvation Army barracks on Sunday night, taking as his subject, "Lead Us Not Into Temptation."

See the great deciding race at the rink Saturday night, Feb. 1. Each has won a race. The winner takes the prize. Bicycle against skates.

TALKED TEMPERANCE.

to habituals. An old man entered a saloon and asked for a drink of whisky. He was refused, because he was on the habitual list. Taking a seat, he noted that a number of young men came in, called for whisky and were supplied at once. He again addressed the barkeeper and said: "For God's sake don't sell whisky to those young fellows. Sell to me. You can do me no more harm. I contracted the drink habit at this bar, and I've squandered home, property, lost self-respect and friends, and am now a wreck; sell to me, but for God's sake don't sell to those young men." The colonel made several telling hits, referring to the law against liquor selling within four miles of an industrial school, making the point that a poor widow, residing in country, city or village, ought to have some protection for her boys. He quoted Sam Jones, the evangelist, as using the following respecting the legislature of Georgia: "Yes, we have a great country. Electricity is accomplishing wonders. The electric motor is astonishing the world. The only use we have in our country for lackasses, is to send them to the legislature in order to pull bills through that astute body." Colonel Hill said: "I'm glad to say that this does not apply to our representatives of Columbiana county."

After song service, the audience was dismissed with the benediction by Reverend Huffer.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that proved the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at the W. & W. pharmacy. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

Cram's Universal Atlas.

This work has had great success in East Liverpool, and richly deserves even greater popularity than it has won with the public, as it is a regular storehouse of valuable information—matters which can be applied to every day life. Mr. Weir, the courteous agent, will call upon you ere long.

O. W. G. Hardman, sheriff of Tyler county, W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

An Old Resident.

Walter Bettridge, who is a candidate for marshal on the labor ticket, has been a resident of the city for 45 years. He now lives in East End where he is well known, and has a large number of friends.

Mrs. Emily Thorne, who resides at Toledo, Washington, says she has never been able to procure any medicine for rheumatism that relieves the pain so quickly and effectually as Chamberlain's pain balm, and that she has also used it for lame back with great success. # GRAND JURY'S PROBE

Still Said to Be at Work Among Legislators.

MORE INDICTMENTS RUMORED.

Columbus Newspapers Give Names of People They Say True Bills Will Be Returned Against Today—Damaging Testimony Against Spear.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—The grand jury will report some time today, and it is stated by the press here that it will return true bills for alleged bribery against ex-Senator J. Q. Abbott of McConnellsville, Samuel Ramp of Cincinnati, Dudley Phillips of West Union, and George Idem of Newark, and a second one for the same offense against W. C. Gear of Wyandot county.

It is generally believed, also, that it will indict several high city officials here for fraud in a large sewer contract. The above statement is not given as coming from an authoritative source, but is merely what has been published by the press of this city, and is not assumed to be an absolute statement of truth.

The legislative committee is investigating the Spear case at Wilmington. F. D. Barrett testified that Spear offered him the place of guard at the penitentiary for $350. Moses Edwards said he offered $50, but Spear wanted him to do better. Then he offered $125. A. E. Hagan, the appointee, said he never had a request for money from Spear.

W. W. Savage, an attorney, testified that at a conference last week Barrett told Spear that he had asked $350 for the appointment. Spear replied, "No, it was $300."

There is a movement on foot to have the Dow liquor tax increased as requested by the saloon element after which the Harris local option bill is to be passed, thus catching the liquor dealers in their own trap. A salesman for one of the leading breweries in Cincinnati says the Brewers' association of that city have spent a handsome fortune to defeat the Harris bill and there is a disposition here to find out who got it.

In the senate a resolution was adopted authorizing the governor to appoint a committee to act with a committee from Michigan to settle the boundary dispute between Lucas county, O., and Monroe county, Mich., which came near resulting in a war when Robert Lucas was governor of Ohio, more than half a century ago.

These bills passed the senate: Requiring county commissioners to organize on the third Monday in September.

Abolishing days of grace, except where note falls due on Sunday.

Bill to prohibit sale of hay, except in market, was defeated, but will be reconsidered.

These bills were introduced in the senate: Increasing Dow tax to $350.

Amending act prohibiting legislators from acting as trustees of state institutions so as to exclude educational institutions.

Providing that who ever sells diseased meat on a half meat less than four weeks old shall be fined $50 and imprisoned 30 days; also that whoever feeds putrid meat to hogs shall be fined $200 and 30 days for first offense and six months for subsequent offenses.

Bills introduced in the house were: Providing for a 2 per cent direct inheritance tax with an exemption of $500.

Providing for struck juries in appropriation proceedings.

Requiring applicants for relief from the poor fund to be a resident of the township 80 days.

Repealing bounty law for woodchuck scalps.

Prohibiting fishing, except with hook and line, in all waters except Lake Erie.

Requiring schoolteachers to pass examination in civil government.

Providing for refunding taxes on money owed.

Making it discretionary with the court whether the jury shall make a special finding on questions submitted to them.

Providing for refunding cigarette tax of 1893, law having been declared unconstitutional.

Requiring county commissioners to purchase all supplies for county officials from lowest bidder.

Requiring pawnbrokers and chattel mortgage sharks to pay a license of $250 per year.

HE PRAISED M'KINLEY.

Some Signs of Definite Improvement, Though Business Still Waits.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued to-day, says: Though business is still waiting, there are some signs of definite improvement. It is now believed that the first payment for bonds will cause no further pressure and the money markets are easier as respect loans on collateral, though the difficulty of making commercial loans still check operations. A good spring trade is predicted.

Signs of improvement in the iron and steel business are gratifying, even though they spring from combinations which have raised the price of coke and allotted the output of lake iron ore. There is also a better demand for wire nails, after long stagnation, and also for sheets. Pigiron is rather weaker, southern works competing sharply, while speculative buyers of some months ago are selling below present furnace prices, but the average for all products is practically unchanged and 11.4 per cent below the highest last year. Coke production has been cut down 10,975 tons in a single week. Minor metals are strengthened a shade by speculation.

Sales of wool at the three chief markets 9,995,680 pounds domestic in January against 18,804,615 last year, but 14,074,900 foreign against 9,551,550 last year have diminished of late, manufacturers buying only for present needs.

Wheat has again advanced about 3 cents for cash, but only 1½ cents for May, although Atlantic exports are little larger than a year ago. Corn has ceased to "sympathize" and records little advance.

The failures for the week have been 404 in the United States, against 354 last year, and 70 in Canada, against 64 last year.

FLOPPED TO REED.

Some Changes in the Louisiana Delegation to St. Louis.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1.—The Republican state convention has adjourned sine die. The following were elected delegates for the state at large to the St. Louis convention: William Pitt Kellogg, A. H. Leonard, Henry Demas, J. Madison Vance.

Thomas A. Cage finally beat the combination formed against him early in the day by Hero, Warmoth and Guichard and others, McKinley men, and was again elected permanent chairman of the body. Kellogg, the Reed leader, also finally got on as a delegate-at-large.

The statement is made that Vance, who was a pronounced McKinley man until he ascertained that the convention was for Reed, then made terms with Kellogg by promising to vote for Reed. Demas, it is said, did not commit himself on the presidential question until he saw that the Reed men had the convention. He then made terms with the Reed people.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

A Fatal Boiler Explosion at Freeport, O. Two Injured.

FREEPORT, O., Feb. 1.—The boiler in the stove mill on William Morrison's farm has exploded, killing three persons and injuring two. The dead are William Laporte, engineer, of Tippecanoe, O.; William Kiefer, Leavittsburg, O., and Roy Vesey of Warren, O. Their bodies were thrown distances of from 60 to 300 feet and frightfully mangled. Isaac Morrison and his young son of Londonderry, O., who were sitting on a log outside the mill, were struck by a flying buzz saw and severely out. Laporte leaves a wife and two children, but Kiefer and Vesey were unmarried.

Vesey had $500 upon his person and it was found scattered upon the ground and in the tree tops. The clothing of the three dead men was stripped from their bodies by the explosion and lodged in the neighboring bushes and trees. The boiler was blown to fragments and the mill wrecked.

Embezzler Escapes and Is Recaptured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Clarence Murphy has been arrested here. He is wanted at Salem, Mass., for alleged embezzlement of $90,000 two years ago from the Salem Savings bank. He escaped from the detectives, but was pursued by policemen, fired at, and finally recaptured.

A Yarn From Kentucky.

LANCASTER, Ky., Feb. 1.—Dr. J. B. Kinnard reports a patient that expelled from the stomach something five inches long, resembling a water dog. He says she had been drinking river water at Danville.

A Horse Thieving Family.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 1.—Judge Jackson has sentenced Charles, Jesse, Marion and Cornelius Ball to the penitentiary for horsestealing. Three are brothers, Cornelius is a son of one of them.

The Seventh Victim Dies.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Feb. 1.—Samuel Marks, one of the victims of the boiler explosion, has died, making the seventh death due to the terrible accident. Samuel Kephart, John Woerner, Superintendent B. F. Cramer and Robert Marks are not expected to recover.

To Investigate Tariff Discrimination.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The house committee on ways and means has adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of tariff discriminations against American products and of the effect of the repeal of the reciprocity laws.

Prince Ferdinand's Resignation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1.—It is asserted in Slavophile circles that the Bulgarian question is approaching a solution, and that Prince Ferdinand's resignation is only a matter of time.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

John Messer, a resident of Chester, is very sick, typhoid fever being the cause.

There is a rumor in the East End that the sewer pipe works will soon be placed in operation.

A pleasant party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Pilgrim on Railroad street last night.

Mr. Johnson, a well known resident of East End, is very low with typhoid fever, and he is not expected to recover.

George Rigby is here from Leetonia, and says the pottery there will be started on Monday morning with a full force.

Dr. G. W. Spahr, a prominent resident of Fredericktown who is well known here, is very ill, and may not recover.

The Bedford went down last night and the Success passed up with a tow of empties, some of them being taken from this place.

The first fair of the season had a place in the Diamond last night, but failed to walk away with his pockets full of jingling gold.

Harry Marks, a member of the Manley band, went to Orrville yesterday and will tonight take part in an entertainment given there by the Grand Armv.

Miss Maggie Colclough, of Minerva street, was agreeably surprised by a number of friends last evening, and a pleasant time was the result.

Louis Satou, a fireman employed on the Port Wayne road, and Miss Kittie McGuire, a young woman of this city, will be married in Wellsville in a few weeks.

Services will be held in the Second U. P. church every night next week. The pastor, Reverend Green, being assisted by Reverend Barrackman, of Salineville.

The poultry association have a meeting in city hall tonight for the purpose of arranging for the show next December. They want to make it the best one ever held in the county.

Captain Freese went to Pittsburg this morning, after a stay of several days in the city and immediate vicinity. He has nothing to say of the railroad, declaring that he knows nothing new.

Miss Odessa Phillips delightfully entertained a large number of friends at her residence on Fourth street last night. It was a leap year, and the young people had a delightful time.

The quarantine at the diphtheria stricken residence of Patrick Craig in West End, was lifted today, and the family allowed to go out. The house was fumigated earlier in the week.

There has been a steady increase in the amount of business done at the freight depot this week, and the number of cars to be handled had reached such proportions today as to compel the employment of another man.

Work on the improvements at the freight depot is done, and the carpenters went to their homes today. The office is not yet ready for occupancy, but the force will be placed in it as soon as the stoves and some other small matters are attended to.

James K. Myler, a wing shot who resides in Beaver and is very well known in this city, was in town last night. He has come into possession of a tract of fine old land near Sistersville, and expects to have a few paying wells. Drilling will be started next week.

The dense fog which hung over the river this morning caused no end of commotion. Several people who crossed in boats got lost, and landed far below the Broadway wharf. Others were not so fortunate, and rowed back to the Virginia shore for a fresh start.

A number of young men in the city who have great desires in the direction of hirsute decoration, have agreed to let the hair on their upper lips grow for three months. At the end of that time stock will be taken, and he who has the smallest mustache will buy supper for the others.

The horrible condition of the Calcutta road can best be illustrated by an incident. A woman walking in the road neglected to pull one of her feet far enough out of the mud before taking a step, and fell down. All the people in that part of town who can afford it, are wearing gum boots.

The presses in the job department of the News Review are turning out the greater part of the work done in the city, and the sole reason for it is the excellence of the product. Good material and artistic workmen work wonders in a newspaper office, and these are what the News Review always has.

The project of the new hospital organization as given last night in the News Review excited general commendation in the city. All agreed that the ladies had adopted the right course, and it was now the duty of the city to help them in every possible way. There is no doubt about moral support, but the most needed now is some financial help.

Save You Money.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and hustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. Rent and a hundred other expenses go on just as before, and as we can't make money anyway, we might as well lose it with a crowd as in solitude. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. For example, if a coat is marked $16 take it along at $12; or if marked at $8 take it along at $6. In our suit and pants department we will make you reductions that will open your eyes. Come at once as our stock must be reduced.

AN INTERESTING BOOK

"The Wonderful," a Story For Young People.

BY THE REV. WILL E. SLOANE

This Work Is One of the Deepest Interest, and Will Be Read With Eagerness. It Has Won Warm Commendation at the Hands of Competent, Trustworthy Critics.

A story of the life of Christ, told by the recorded conversations of a Jewish family of eminence, who, from His birth, accepted Him as the looked for Messiah, and anxiously waited the time when He should fulfill their idea of His mission and redeem Israel from the power of the Romans; but were led finally to understand that He came not as a temporal ruler, but as King of kings and Lord of lords. The events are related in their historical sequence and in connection with the temporary history of the Jews.

Read the following commendation, from a source deserving of consideration. It is but one of many in Reverend Sloan's possession:

"PRINCETON, N. J.

"I think your conception of the book is very excellent and likely to prove useful. The setting of the story is natural and you present such a picture of Christ's life as would interest, I think, especially intelligent young people. I must congratulate you on the accuracy with which you relate the events, and the simplicity of your outline. I think that you have made a very impressive and lifelike and to young readers useful recital of the Saviour's life in its historical frame and progress.

"Yours fraternally,
"GEORGE T. PURVES."

Rev. George T. Purves, D. D., is professor of New Testament Exegesis in the Princeton Theological seminary.

Drummer-Koy Young Makes Reply to H. F. Schenkel.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I am a believer in fair play, in truth, right and justice, and my former employer, H. F. Schenkel, has not given me just treatment by any manner of means, either as an employee, or in his false statements published in the NEWS REVIEW of last night. I was absent from the city a short time lately, and returned a few days before the rendition of Faust at the opera house. On the evening of the giving of that play, H. F. Schenkel came to me and told me to get my drum, as he expected me to play as usual. I complied with his request and also played for seven shows at the Grand since that time, positive evidence, on the face of affairs, that I had not been discharged or displaced. Further than this, I have a reliable witness to prove that H. F. Schenkel said he had no intention of giving my position to anyone else and that he could not get a competent drummer in this section, aside from myself. When Williams came and took my place in the orchestra, he remarked: "Roy, you must not blame me, as Schenkel told me to take your place." I can prove that I am thoroughly competent to fill the position I occupied, much more so than Williams, as I thoroughly understand the class of music common to operatic work, having been carefully schooled and trained by Professor Wolfe, of Wells-ville. Further, I am a member of the musical union, in good standing, and I shall convince Messrs. Schenkel and Williams that they have made a serious blunder in treating me in the unjust manner they have. The management of the opera house certainly do understand the facts in the case, and they showed their appreciation of my playing when they advanced me money to purchase a superb snare drum.

ROY YOUNG.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and from the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

TALKED TEMPERANCE.

to habituals. An old man entered a saloon and asked for a drink of whisky. He was refused, because he was on the habitual list. Taking a seat, he noted that a number of young men came in, called for whisky and were supplied at once. He again addressed the barkeeper and said: "For God's sake don't sell whisky to those young fellows. Sell to me. You can do me no more harm. I contracted the drink habit at this bar, and I've squandered home, property, lost self-respect and friends, and am now a wreck; sell to me, but for God's sake don't sell to those young men." The colonel made several telling hits, referring to the law against liquor selling within four miles of an industrial school, making the point that a poor widow, residing in country, city or village, ought to have some protection for her boys. He quoted Sam Jones, the evangelist, as using the following respecting the legislature of Georgia: "Yes, we have a great country. Electricity is accomplishing wonders. The electric motor is astonishing the world. The only use we have in our country for jackasses, is to send them to the legislature in order to pull bills through that astute body." Colonel Hill said: "I'm glad to say that this does not apply to our representatives of Columbiana county."

After song service, the audience was dismissed with the benediction by Reverend Huffer.

Eleven Performances.

The famous Clifton & Middleton company, which comes to the Grand next week, is the best repertoire combination ever seen in town. They will conduct 11 performances during the week, a matinee being given every day after Monday. Miss June Agnot is the star, and two trained horses are used in the first play of the week. A band and orchestra are attached to the troupe, and theater goers in the city are promised a week of splendid performance.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at the W. & W. pharmacy.

Sold the Chattels.

Constable Lyon sold the chattels of James Baxter, consisting of feed, wagon, harness and horses, this morning to satisfy a claim held by the Union planing mill.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that proved the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at the W. & W. pharmacy. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

Cram's Universal Atlas.

This work has had great success in East Liverpool, and richly deserves even greater popularity than it has won with the public, as it is a regular storehouse of valuable information—matters which can be applied to every day life. Mr. Weir, the courteous agent, will call upon you ere long.

O. W. G. Hardman, sheriff of Tyler county, W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and colds." For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

An Old Resident.

Walter Bettridge, who is a candidate for marshal on the labor ticket, has been a resident of the city for 45 years. He now lives in East End where he is well known, and has a large number of friends.

Mrs. Emily Thorne, who resides at Toledo, Washington, says she has never been able to procure any medicine for rheumatism that relieves the pain so quickly and effectually as Chamberlain's pain balm, and that she has also used it for lame back with great success. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

GRAND JURY'S PROBE

Still Said to Be at Work Among Legislators.

MORE INDICTMENTS RUMORED.

Columbus Newspapers Give Names of People They Say True Bills Will Be Returned Against Today—Damaging Testimony Against Spear.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—The grand jury will report some time today, and it is stated by the press here that it will return true bills for alleged bribery against ex-Senator J. Q. Abbott of McConnelsville, Samuel Ramp of Cincinnati, Dudley Phillips of West Union, and George Idem of Newark, and a second one for the same offense against W. C. Gear of Wyandot county.

It is generally believed, also, that it will indict several high city officials here for fraud in a large sewer contract. The above statement is not given as coming from an authoritative source, but is merely what has been published by the press of this city, and is not assumed to be an absolute statement of truth.

The legislative committee is investigating the Spear case at Wilmington. P. D. Barrett testified that Spear offered him the place of guard at the penitentiary for $350. Moses Edwards said he offered $50, but Spear wanted him to do better. Then he offered $125. A. E. Hagan, the appointee, said he never had a request for money from Spear.

W. W. Savage, an attorney, testified that at a conference last week Barrett told Spear that he had asked $350 for the appointment. Spear replied, "No, it was $300."

There is a movement on foot to have the Dow liquor tax increased as requested by the saloon element after which the Harris local option bill is to be passed, thus catching the liquor dealers in their own trap. A salesman for one of the leading breweries in Cincinnati says the Brewers' association of that city have spent a handsome fortune to defeat the Harris bill and there is a disposition here to find out who got it.

In the senate a resolution was adopted authorizing the governor to appoint a committee to act with a committee from Michigan to settle the boundary dispute between Lucas county, O., and Monroe county, Mich., which came near resulting in a war when Robert Lucas was governor of Ohio, more than half a century ago.

These bills passed the senate: Requiring county commissioners to organize on the third Monday in September. Abolishing days of grace, except where note falls due on Sunday.

Bill to prohibit sale of hay, except in market, was defeated, but will be reconsidered.

Increasing Dow tax to $350. Amending act prohibiting legislators from acting as trustees of state institutions so as to exclude educational institutions.

Providing that who ever sells diseased meat shall be fined less than four weeks or shall be fined $50 and imprisoned 20 days; also that whoever feeds putrid meat to hogs shall be fined $200 and 30 days for first offense and six months for subsequent offenses.

Bills introduced in the house were: Providing for 2 per cent direct inheritance tax with an exemption of $500.

Providing for struck juries in appropriation proceedings. Requiring applicants for relief from the poor fund to be a resident of the township 30 days.

Repealing bounty law for woodchuck scalps. Prohibiting fishing, except with hook and line, in all waters except Lake Erie.

Requiring schoolteachers to pass examination in civil government. Providing for refunding taxes on money owed.

Making it discretionary with the court whether the jury shall make a special finding on questions submitted to them. Providing for refunding cigarette tax of 1893, law having been declared unconstitutional.

Requiring county commissioners to purchase all supplies for county officials from lowest bidder.

HE PRAISED M'KINLEY.

Gov. Bushnell Addressed the Ohio Society Banquet at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The annual banquet of the Ohio society was held last night the principal speaker being Governor Asa Bushnell. His subject was "Ohio," and the address largely of a political nature.

The speaker dwelt at considerable length on the merits of McKinley as a presidential candidate. It was expected that Senator Foraker would speak, but he was unable to be present.

Crowd Threatened Violence.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—Dr. Charles McGiven, a druggist and physician, has been arrested on the charge of attempting to assault May Kamer, the 10-year-old daughter of James Kamer, who resides at Beulah, near there. A crowd gathered about the store and threatened violence, but dispersed.

Will Manage the B. & O.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—Oscar G. Murray has resigned as vice president of the Big Four to become operating president and general manager of the B. & O., in connection with President Cowen.

A Railroadman Resigns.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—W. W. Daniel, general freight agent of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking, has resigned. His successor has been chosen, but the name is not known.
